SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes hammered at targets in North Viet Nam again today, while on the ground American and Allied forces caught the Viet Cong in a giant vise along South Viet Nam's coastal plains and sent them sprawling into retreat after 498 were reported killed.

An Air Force spokesman said three American planes — one Air Force and two Navy jets — were lost in the first day of air attacks on the Communist North after the 37-day bombing pause. There were no details yet on the second day of the raids.

The pilots of the two Navy planes were rescued, but the pilot of an Air Force F105 Thunderchief was missing about 20 miles south of Vinh. He pulled into cloud cover and disappeared. Rescue efforts were called off after a search, the spokesman said.

Planes Downed
Radio Hanoi claimed Monday that North Vietnamese gunners had downed five American planes and damaged 10 others.

As U.S. Air Force and Navy carrier planes roared over the north again, the combined allied Operation Masher in the rice-fields and jungles 290 miles northeast of Saigon smashed at a large Viet Cong force from three sides. Some of the guerrillas were reported ripping off their green jungle fighting suits and donning the black pajamas

Krebiozen Drug Future Foggy Despite Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — The four chief supporters of Krebiozen have been acquitted, but what of the future of the drug?

The foreman of the jury which Monday acquitted Dr. Stevan Durovic, developer of Krebiozen, said the jury was convinced that the government had not proved Krebiozen was worthless.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, internationally known physiologist who with two other defendants was acquitted Saturday, has called again for a government test of the substance.

In Washington, the Food and Drug Administration has reiterated its contention that Krebiozen is worthless in the treatment of cancer and cannot be sold interstate.

All Cleared
The U.S. District Court jury acquitted Dr. Durovic, 60, and the Krebiozen Research Foundation, thus clearing all five defendants. The four men and the foundation were charged in a multicount indictment with mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale and promotion of the drug.

The trial, the longest federal criminal trial in Chicago history, lasted nine months and three days and cost something between $350,000 and $3 million, depending on who made the estimate.

The jurors, seven women and five men, listened to 178 witnesses fill 22,000 pages of transcript which formed a stack seven feet high. They heard physicians and cancer patients for the government and defense testify to the worth or worthlessness of the drug.

They deliberated for 47 hours and 50 minutes and took 38 ballots before acquitting the defendants.

Proof Not Offered
The two other defendants are Marko Durovic, 64, a lawyer and Stevan's brother, and Dr. William F.P. Phillips, 52, a general practitioner who administered Krebiozen to cancer patients.

Adolph J. Beranek, 59, the jury foreman, said after the trial: "There was no proof that Krebiozen was worth anything. Most of us felt it does have a value."

"This trial, I understand, cost over $1 million. I think the money could have been put to a better use, such as a laboratory test of the drug," he said.

The white-haired Dr. Ivy said a new test is the only way the drug's worth can be evaluated in cancer control.

"I intend to go back into research into the anticancer substance which I have been working on since 1917," Dr. Ivy said. "Krebiozen is such a substance, but I think there may be others."

Ivy, director of medical research at Roosevelt University and chief sponsor of Krebiozen, said he is "not yet fully relieved" by the jury's verdict and that the trial was "just an

U.S. Proposes Action To Set Viet Nam Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. AP — The U. N. Security Council was called into urgent session today to begin debate on a U. S. proposal for preparatory talks to set up a Viet Nam peace conference.

U. S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg put the war in Viet Nam before the 15-member council late Monday in a resolution which asked that a place and date be fixed for immediate and unconditional discussions of arrangements for the proposed peace conference.

Both the U.S. request for the council meeting and the U.S. resolution caught U.N. diplomats by surprise. The corridors buzzed with speculation on possible Soviet moves. One unanswered question was whether the Russians would seek to have the government of North Viet Nam invited to take part in the council debate. Another was whether the Russians would veto the U.S. resolution.

New Condition Set

The U.S. delegation was not expected to object if the council favored inviting North Viet Nam, but there was no word on the U.S. attitude toward a bid to the Viet Cong. The British government disclosed Monday night that North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh, in a message to Queen Elizabeth II last week, set as a new condition for peace talks U.S. recognition of the Viet Cong as "the sole genuine representative of the people of South Viet Nam."

Red China again rejected U.N. intervention in the Viet Nam war. Repeating Peking's oft-stated position, the official New China News Agency said the United Nations "has no right to meddle with the Viet Nam question."

The first private reaction of U.N. diplomats to the U.S. proposal was one of doubt that the council debate would be useful. Some feared it would force the Soviet Union into taking a hard line and destroy any possibility of private Soviet pressure on Hanoi for peace.

U. S. Shifts Policy
U.S. officials, however, were aware of this risk and apparently believed the gamble was worth taking. They also were prepared to face strong criticism for resuming the bombing of North Viet Nam.

The U.S. decision to bring the Viet Nam issue to the United Nations represented a switch in policy, and no immediate explanation was forthcoming from responsible officials. Only last week Goldberg went to considerable pains to explain to a group of congressmen that council action was not feasible.

Some U.N. diplomats believed the switch was motivated by a desire to neutralize the expected criticism in Congress over the end of the bombing lull. It also may have been sparked partly by the weekend peace appeal of Pope Paul VI, who suggested

Ferry Fails To Foil Sault Wedding Plan

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — There's an old refrain about getting married in the morning and being sure to get me to the church on time.

Rita Ann McKersie, 22, of nearby Sugar Island, and David J. Rapson, 22, of Ypsilanti, didn't quite make it on time. But almost unbelievably they were only 15 minutes late.

Here's why:
Sugar Island is in the St. Marys River, a bare quarter-mile off Sault Ste. Marie, but 18-miles below zero weather and an ill wind filled the separating rapids with ice Friday night.

The ferry that connects the two couldn't make it across Saturday. It got stuck. The Coast Guard ice-breaking tug Naugatuck was brought out at 2 p.m. Saturday to break a channel for the ferry.

But then it was discovered the ferry had broken a hose, its coolant had leaked out and its engine overheated in its own attempts to break itself clear earlier.

Rita Ann and David were scheduled to be married in Sacred Heart Church on her native Sugar Island at 6 p.m. But hopes of a wedding there were abandoned.

So, Rita Ann, her brother, Harold, usher Clyde Fox, and three altar boys, all relatives of

Johnson Holds War Expansion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told administration officials he intends to keep a tight rein on any expansion of the Vietnamese war. He is understood to have ruled out any bombing of Hanoi or Haiphong for the immediate future.

Officials said today the President is determined at this time, having resumed the bombing in the North, to stick to a middle-course policy. They said he intends to avoid any show of a lack of determination, on the one hand, and any unnecessary escalation on the other.

The pattern of attacks in the new phase of the war following the peace offensive is expected to be consistent with a pattern followed before the pause began.

Bombing was suspended before Christmas and resumed Monday after a 37-day lull. Johnson in a public statement said "it is our clear duty to do what we can" to limit the cost in lives of Allied soldiers fighting Red forces in the South. The major stated aim of the bombing is to curtail the movement of arms and soldiers from North to South in Viet Nam.

At the same time Johnson said his "pursuit of peace" would go on primarily through the United Nations. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg called for an immediate session of the U.N. Security Council to hear a report on the peace effort and receive resolutions designed to continue efforts to get North Viet Nam to negotiate.

Accused Lover Commits Suicide

Rooney's Fifth Wife Slain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The planned reconciliation of Mickey Rooney and his fifth wife has resulted in her murder and the suicide of the young Yugoslav actor accused by Rooney of being her lover.

The bodies of Barbara Thomson Rooney, 29, and Milos Milosevic, 25, an actor known professionally as Milos Milos, were found Monday in the bathroom of the $150,000 Brentwood home Rooney once shared with his wife and four young children.

Police theorized that Milosevic shot Mrs. Rooney, then turned the 38-caliber pistol on himself because she was planning to resume her marriage with the diminutive actor.

Rooney himself was under sedation at St. John's Hospital in nearby Santa Monica, being treated for an intestinal infection acquired during filming in the Philippines.

Reconciliation Planned
Said Rooney's manager, Red Doff: "Mickey told me they'd (he and Barbara) had a very good talk and they were very close to reconciliation. I think Milos may have resented it."

This apparently triggered the acts of violence by Milosevic, whose divorced wife had asked police protection from his fits of temper.

West Los Angeles police, fitting together the sequence of events that led to the double tragedy, said this picture emerged:

Rooney returned from the Philippine location in December to discover he had been replaced in his wife's affections by the handsome Milosevic, who had been a friend of the family for a year.

Milosevic had appeared in three films — "The Russians Are Coming," yet to be released; "Religious Legends of Old Monterey" and an art film, "Incubus," in Esperanto. His marriage to Cynthia Krensky Bouron on July 2, 1964, ended in divorce after she charged him with assault last July and was to have become final this July.

Files Divorce Suit

A week ago, Rooney filed suit for divorce, charging that Milosevic "was allowing, permitting, encouraging or harboring" the Yugoslav actor at the Rooney home.

Rooney listed his income at $30,000 a year, and suggested monthly alimony of $400 and child support payments of $600 per month.

Mrs. Rooney countered with a suit for separate maintenance. Last Sunday night, Rooney and his wife met in his hospital room. Unknown to him, she had hired a private detective to tape record their conversation.

The 45-year-old actor-comedian, once famed as Andy Hardy, was persuasive in his arguments for a reconciliation. His wife shut off the recorder when she began to succumb to his reasoning.

She and the detective, Herm Schlieske, returned to her home. There she met Milosevic, two of her woman friends and her attorney, Harold Abeles.

The attorney said later: "She agreed not to see him (Milosevic) anymore if it bothered Mr. Rooney."

Milosevic appeared to agree without rancor to break off his friendship with Mrs. Rooney. He then invited her into the master bedroom. They disappeared inside at 8:30 p.m. and the door was locked.

It was the last time they were seen alive.

A house guest, Wilma Catania, 35, decided to depart for dinner an hour later. She knocked on the bedroom door. No answer, she took Mrs. Rooney's car.

She returned at 2:30 a.m. and found the house lights ablaze. Police believe that Milosevic may have fired the pistol shortly after entering the bedroom. No gunshots were heard even though a maid was in the house and three of the Rooney children — Kelly, 5; Kerry, 4; and Kyle, 3 — were in a bedroom 30 feet away.

A fourth child, Kimmie, 1, was at the home of Mrs. Rooney's parents.

Doors Muffle Shots
Two closed doors may have muffled the sound of shots.

Miss Catania awoke at noon Monday. Finding that the maid had not seen Mrs. Rooney, the house guest unlocked the bedroom door. She found the bed still made. Then she opened the bathroom door.

Mrs. Rooney lay face up on the floor, clad in tan capris and a flowered blouse. A bullet had entered her jaw. Milosevic, in black pants and white shirt, was sprawled over her, a bullet hole in his temple. The pistol was next to the bodies.

Under sedation, Rooney was

Viet Nam Policy Inquiry Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today his Senate Foreign Relations Committee will not press its inquiries into President Johnson's Viet Nam policy until the United Nations has debated the administration's new peace effort.

"If this starts debate in the United Nations," the Arkansas Democrat said, "the administration should have full opportunity to submit its case."

But Fulbright, who wanted the administration to lengthen the now-shattered lull in bombing of North Viet Nam, said there remains "grave apprehension" in Congress about the air war and other facets of Johnson's policy.

Strikes Backed

There was also substantial backing on Capitol Hill for Johnson's decision to loose new air strikes on the Communist North.

The Foreign Relations Committee, of which Fulbright is chairman, delayed today's scheduled return of Secretary of State Dean Rusk for renewed questioning about Southeast Asia.

Fulbright said he anticipates no new Viet Nam policy hearings until the end of U.N. debate on the peace conference call sounded at Johnson's order.

Even senators who hailed Johnson's appeal to the United Nations voiced no optimism about the prospects it would win peace. "I do not think it is likely to be successful," Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., said of the new administration move.

McNamara To Appear?

Rusk faced Senate questioning Friday when he went before the Foreign Relations Committee to seek a $415-million emergency foreign aid appropriation, most of it earmarked for South Viet Nam.

The Senate Armed Services Committee put off until Wednesday another appearance by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on Johnson's request for $12.8 billion in Viet Nam military funds.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford both said Johnson had no choice, when his peace offensive failed, but resumption of air raids on North Viet Nam. Johnson's order ended a 37-day bombing pause.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield who opposed resumption of the attacks, said it was not the President's fault peace efforts failed. His assistant, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said, "When you are in a fight, you do well to win it."

UAW Rejects Chrysler Offer

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers turned down a second time Monday a tentative agreement to end a strike at a key Chrysler Corp. plant.

A walkout erupted Friday at a stamping plant in suburban Sterling Township. Chrysler has reported that unless there is a quick return to work a shortage of parts could idle 30,000 other workers this week.

The union blames what it says are hundreds of unresolved grievances over working conditions. The Sterling Township plant employs 2,300.

State To Build Wings On Capitol

LANSING (AP) — Legislative leaders have agreed to build office wings around the Capitol and hope to decide by late this year whether the Capitol building itself is worth saving.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the Senate Building subcommittee, said Monday that foundations for twin four-story wings would be poured by autumn and occupied by 1968.

If lawmakers decide the Capitol cannot be satisfactorily renovated, they will build new House and Senate chambers to the rear of the present structure and governor's offices across the front, completing a hollow square, said Lane.

The existing building then will be either saved only for historical viewing or torn down to make way for a central building in the middle of the square. Lane said Senate and House leaders met Saturday to iron out differences over what form additional legislative office space should take. The House had favored one building behind the Capitol but the Senate finally won support for its wing concept.

Lane, who revealed the Senate's wing plan several weeks ago, said architects are drawing sketches now but cost estimates cannot yet be made. He said the cost would be under $10 million. Basements of the wings would be parking garages. Lane said details of exteriors would depend on whether it was decided to retain the Capitol.

Lack of space and poor physical condition of the present Capitol have been twin pains to

Primrose Gives $1,000 To Aid Hospital X-ray

William F. J. Primrose, Escanaba's generous benefactor to many worthy causes, has given $1,000 to St. Francis Hospital to pay for new equipment in the hospital's remodeled X-ray department.

In making the announcement of the gift, Primrose mentioned in particular his gratitude to Dr. N. J. Theisen, radiologist at St. Francis Hospital.

"He had helped me with treatment some years ago and I wanted to do this for him," said Primrose.

Dr. Theisen and John Haines, the latter administrative assistant at St. Francis Hospital, expressed appreciation for the generous contribution.

The new equipment plus the remodeling for the X-ray department at St. Francis Hospital cost approximately $50,000. To get the better equipment desired it was necessary to have $6,000 in donations.

"The contribution from Mr. Primrose leaves only $1,000 yet to be donated to reach the goal," said Haines.

They directed attention to the generous gifts to the hospital from Mr. Primrose in the past, including $2,500 as a memorial to his mother, Wilhelmina Primrose, in 1958.

Mr. Primrose in announcing the $1,000 gift to the hospital today said that "I intend to increase my bequest to St. Francis Hospital in my will."

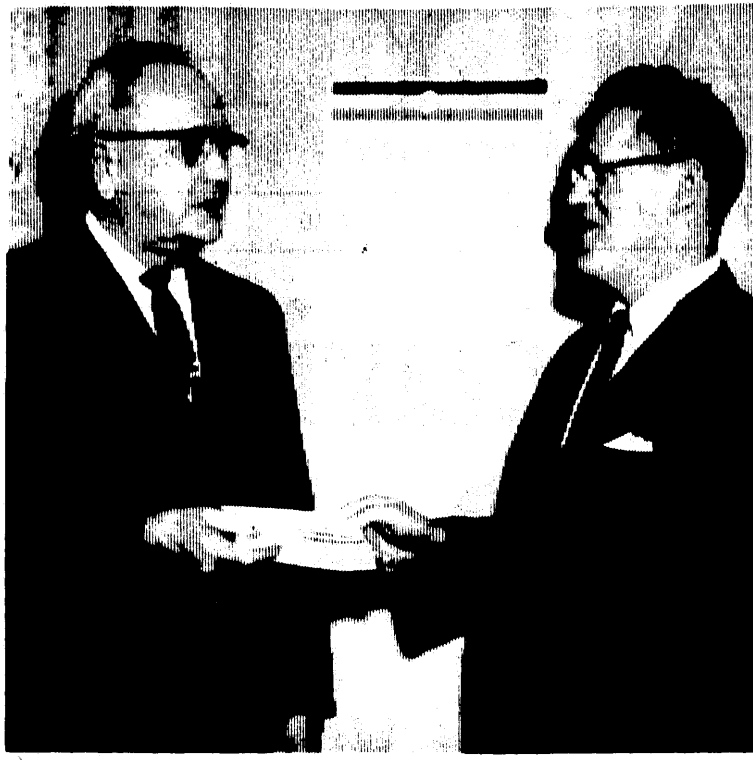

Besides his contribution to help finance X-ray equipment at the hospital, Primrose announced that he is giving $300 to the John F. Kennedy School for Retarded Children, and $300 to the Delta County Historical Society.

The School for Retarded Children has been the recipient of other donations in the past from Primrose, and the Delta County Chapter of the Association for Retarded Children expressed appreciation for his generosity.

The Historical Society has created a fund for much-needed Museum expansion, and Robert Schmeling, the Society president, said the gift is "deeply appreciated" by the Society and "is further encouragement to our building expansion plans."

Brucellosis Controls Slip On Delta Farms

Delta County dairymen should be concerned that the number of Brucellosis vaccinations for dairy calves has been falling off rather sharply, say animal health officers.

Some of the decline can be attributed to a drop in cow numbers but this is not the whole answer. Some dairymen are getting careless about using the program, say health officers.

Dairymen have been advised not to raise a heifer for herd replacement unless she is vaccinated. This means that dairy farmers should not buy any heifers beyond vaccination age that were not vaccinated.

"It is easy for a dairymen to say 'I'll vaccinate 25 per cent of the heifers each year which is enough for herd replacement,'" says Joseph Heirman, Delta County Extension director. "But what happens if someone comes along to buy breeding stock? Are we going to sell unvaccinated calves or yearlings to them? We would be doing the wrong thing if we did."

"In Delta County we have

The scholarships will offer $100 each to a boy and a girl. The scholarship recipients must be residents of Delta County and the parent or parents should be actively engaged in and making their living in agriculture.

"These scholarships have been made possible by the excellent cooperation and support of businesses in the Escanaba and Delta County area," Bathke and Marenger said.

been Brucellosis-free for some time. We can remain that way by vaccinating all animals kept for breeding purposes. It is a sound investment in future herd health."

Need Revenues To Save Fair, Board Decides

An admission charge of 50 cents per person will be made at the U. P. State Fair gate this year, it has been decided by the Fair's Board of Managers.

The Board made the decision at its first meeting of the year and the action was announced by Cliff Perras, the Fair's secretary-manager.

The U. P. State Fair is now under the direction of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, a development resulting from the reorganization of state agencies under the new state constitution. There is increasing emphasis to raise the Fair's revenues to make the six-day exposition more nearly self-supporting.

More Free Shows

The charge of 50 cents per person for admission to the Fair is one of the measures by the Board of Managers to bring revenues more into line with costs, it was explained. Failure to make a better financial showing could endanger the future of the Fair, which has been called the "show window of the Upper Peninsula."

Fair patrons will get more for their money this year:

There will be free parking on the grounds, for one thing. In the past a charge of 50 cents per car was made.

The grandstand will have more and better shows, many of them free. The free shows will be both afternoon and evening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday; plus a free show on Saturday night.

Ten rest areas are being planned for the grounds, places where Fairgoers can relax and put up their feet without having to pay for it.

All Must Pay
Many free entertainment features are planned, among them a concert by an all-U. P. youth band from Northern Michigan University, Marquette. The band will have 130 members, a chorus of 40 voices, 48 baton twirlers and 12 directors. The performances are scheduled for Friday afternoon and evening. Variety acts will also be presented.

The admission charge of 50 cents will be required of all paying customers — including all Fair officials, exhibitors, concessionaires and Fair employees.

The ending of the "free gate" policy has been approved by the Department of Agriculture, which now governs the Fair's administration. But Fair patrons will get more for their money and the improved financial record will show that the people of the Peninsula really appreciate the Fair and want it to survive, officials said.

The Fair has not always had a free gate. There has been an admission charge for most of the years since it was established 38 years ago.

GM Earnings Hit $2 Billion

DETROIT (AP)—With profits zooming $391 million in 1965, General Motors Monday became the first corporation ever to report a year's earnings of more than $2 billion.

Shortly before GM's stock closed at $102.75 a share, down 87 1/2 cents for the day on the New York Stock Exchange, it closed at 103 later on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

The size of the profit and the price of the stock renewed speculation in some quarters some split or dividend action might be forthcoming at the Feb. 7 meeting of GM's directors in New York.

Sales Set Record
Company spokesmen declined any comment. Another source commented: "Speculation is always with us, and often its roots are in wishful thinking."

GM's 1965 earnings soared 23 per cent above 1964's to a record $2.12 billion. It was a fourth straight record-breaking year for the world's largest manufacturing enterprise.

Dividends and sales also set records.

The company paid dividends of $5.25 a share in 1965, including a special yearender of $2.25, paying out a total of $1.49 million to common stock holders. The 1964 payout was $1.45. Both these were records.

Net earnings equalled $7.41 a share last year, compared with a previous high mark of $6.05 in 1964.

Sales were estimated at $20.7 billion, an increase of 22 per cent over the previous record of $17.0 billion the previous year.

Sell 7.3 Million

GM's worldwide sales were equal to almost one-fifth the federal budget, and just its $391 million increase in profits was more than most corporations make in total earnings.

Nearly 7.3 million GM cars and trucks were sold in 1965, compared with 6.1 million in 1964, the previous record total. GM claims about 53 per cent of the United States automobile market.

Cut Your Own Taxes:

Guides On Deductibles

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Special Writer

Internal Revenue Service scored a major breakthrough this year in simplifying one aspect of the 1040 Form. The instruction manual mailed out with the tax forms to every person who filed a tax return last year prints the sales tax allowance chart for his state and a list of the gasoline taxes in the states.

The sales tax chart for your state is based upon adjusted gross income. That is the figure you will enter on Line 9, Page 1 of Form 1040. Your total income and the number in your family will determine your allowance.

Again this year IRS will permit taxpayers to add to the allowance on their state chart the exact amount of deductible sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile in 1965.

What if you can prove you paid more sales taxes than the chart provides for you? By all means take the full deduction you can support. But the burden of proof is on you if you elect not to use the chart allowance.

Perhaps the major tax deduction available to homeowners is the tax on their real estate. Real estate taxes are deductible in the year paid.

If your monthly mortgage payment includes a portion of your real estate taxes in addition to principal and interest payments, the amount of your real estate tax deduction is not necessarily the total of the withheld tax amounts from January through December, 1965.

This tax payment went into a reserve account at your bank to insure the funds would be available when the taxes become due.

Most banks and savings and loan associations send you a receipt when your taxes are paid or show a notation on your monthly slip. These actual payments are the amount you will deduct for taxes on your Form 1040.

The personal property tax levied by many states on your investments is also fully deductible on your return if you are itemizing deductions.

These are among the taxes NOT DEDUCTIBLE:

Auto licenses, driver's license, cigarette tax, liquor tax, federal income tax, Social Security, federal estate and gift taxes, dog tags, hunting license and marriage license.

Electronic Police Network Studied

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police met with a business consultant service Monday to start a study of the feasibility of establishing an electronic law information network in Michigan.

The Legislature authorized $47,500 for the study.

Scientific Systems Corp. of Bloomington, Ind., which has designed several computer police information systems, is co-operating in the study.

The proposed system would provide for a central bank of police information. The data would be sent to terminals in State Police posts and municipal police and sheriff's departments.

Mayoral foe

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Daniel R. Waters, a retired Kent County civil defense official and long a city hall administrative assistant, filed nomination petitions Monday for the post of Grand Rapids mayor. He will challenge Mayor Chris Sonneveldt in the Feb. 21 primary election.

Snow Holds Up New York Key For Bob Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay wanted to present Bob Hope with the key to the city while Hope was in town Sunday to act as master of ceremonies for an eye-research charity benefit.

A search revealed the only keys to the city still had former Mayor Robert F. Wagner's name inscribed on them.

Aides finally tracked down an engraver who could inscribe Hope's and Lindsay's names and a suitable legend on a desk set adorned by a small key.

There was one other hitch. Lindsay didn't make it because of a snowstorm.

Rapid River

Rapid River Fluoride Committee will meet Wednesday, Feb. 2, 7:30 p. m. in the multipurpose room of the Bay De Noc Elementary School.

Hospital
Randy Deneau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Deneau, Rapid River, is a patient at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Board Meeting
Rapid River's Congregational Church Board will meet tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the parish hall. This will be the first meeting of the church's newly organized board.

Firemen Thank Calm In Wind

OXFORD (AP)—"We thought we were going to lose the whole town until the wind died down," said Assistant Fire Chief Dale Spiker of a blaze that destroyed four downtown buildings and caused an estimated $200,000 damage Monday.

Cause of the fire, which started in the Oxford Office Supply Co. store, still was being sought today.

"We'll just keep going through the rubble and checking," said Fire Chief Perry Earl, who agreed with Spiker, "we didn't know where we were going until the wind died down."

Firemen fought the blaze in this Oakland County community of 2,357 for five hours in near-zero weather. Five firemen were overcome by smoke or exhaustion.

URDU PLUS ONE
NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced plans to have each of its custom officers qualified in at least one foreign language.

Viet Marine Barking Mad

JACKSON (AP)—A Michigan marine in Viet Nam is hoping a pen pal in Oceanside, Calif., will include his name and address in his next message. The marine would like to have both real bad.

He wrote as much from Da Nang to his parents, who live in nearby Vandercreek Lake. They sent the letter on to The Jackson Citizen Patriot Monday.

Pfc. Daniel Rombyer said he got under an Oceanside postmark a can of dog food and a note, saying: "Eat well, animal."

"I wish, wrote young Rombyer, 'I could have been home yesterday. I think I would have hit anyone who looked at me twice.'"

Rombyer was burned up because the sender gave no return address or name. His mother termed the writer "a prankster."

Young Rombyer's description was much more vivid and in Marine Corps tradition.

"It sure makes me wonder," Rombyer said, "about some of the people I'm risking my life for."

Students Protest Folk Song Ban

DETROIT (AP)—A ban on folk song-style Masses, imposed on a Mass written by an Episcopal minister and celebrated at the University of Detroit, was protested Monday by a group of university students.

In a letter to Archbishop John Dearden of the Detroit Diocese the students protested the decision of the Archdiocesan Music Commission to forbid celebration of "An American Folk Song Mass" written by The Rev. Ian Douglas Mitchell.

The chairman of the commission, The Rev. Robert Ryan, said the Mass was considered objectionable because its text was not approved by the National Conference of Bishops of the United States.

POTATO PANCAKES

4 med. sized potatoes (2 1/4 C. grated) 1 tsp. salt
1/2 small onion, finely grated 1/4 tsp. black pepper
1 1/2 Tbsp. flour 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1 large egg, well beaten 3 Tbsp. chopped parsley
3 Tbsp. butter

Peel potatoes and cover with cold water. Drain. Grate potatoes with a fine grater. Put potatoes into tea towel or cheesecloth bag and wring out most of the moisture. Mix together potatoes, onion, flour, egg, and seasonings. Melt butter in large skillet or on pancake grill. Drop potato mixture (a scant 1/4 C. for each pancake) into skillet or onto grill. Cook until crispy brown on one side. Turn and cook on other side. Serve at once. Makes about 8 pancakes.

Super Tip: When potatoes are grated they turn a pinkish color. This does not hurt the flavor.

Charm Of Early American Decor

Who says Early American decorating is dead? More than ever before, there is a deep interest in capturing the warmth and charm of the ancestral American abode and working it into the tapestry of 20th Century living.

In a bedroom, particularly, the honey warmth of Early American decor is pleasing. A brass bedstead, an heirloom quilted coverlet, and fine, old carved oak chests can form a nucleus for a happy return to the past.

If these exist already in the family, most of the job is done. If not, a search for furnishings must begin—either through antique dealers or in furniture stores where good reproductions are to be had. Once the principal pieces are procured, decorating turns to the walls and floor to provide the proper setting.

Traditional in Early American decor are pine paneling and finely figured wallpapers, often used in combination. Both are easily obtainable today. Ponderosa pine, with its honey brown coloring, is the favorite among the pines for full-wall paneling and wainscoting.

The choice between pine boards with knots and knot-free paneling is personal. But, as a general rule of thumb, gear the selection to the amount of pattern and texture needed in the room. If figured wallpaper is also to be used, plus a braid rug and patterned quilt, it's wise to select clear vertical grain or flat grain boards in preference to those that have distinctive knots. If pattern is at a minimum, knot-free panel boards can be delightful.

AUTHENTIC Early American decorating graces this bedroom suite. Antique brass bedstead and carved oak chests are set off by walls paneled in ponderosa pine to eight-foot height, figured wallpaper above. What-not around dressing room doorway holds books, figurine collection.

Finish the pine clear to capture its warm coloring. A modern plastic varnish in the "hand-rubbed" finish is smart to use and has the soft sheen of waxed, rubbed wood.

For the floor covering, there are several possibilities. One carpeting pattern successfully simulates the appearance of a rag rug, bringing with it the multitude of color tones and textures that creates a surprisingly neutral look. Good florals are also making a return. And, of course, an authentic braid rug over polished wood is always a winner.

Remember, always, that Early American decorating is an intensely personal affair. Its charm depends directly on the personal touch and on the mix of European and American crafted furnishings that existed in Great Grandfather's home.

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador.

MSU 'Project 80'

Decline In Food Costs Predicted

EAST LANSING (AP)—After two years' study, Michigan State University, told rural Michigan Monday what it might look forward to in 1990—and what it might try to avoid.

One problem to avoid, it indicated, is a continuation of the cost-price squeeze on farmers.

Consumers, meanwhile, can look forward to spending a smaller and smaller percentage of their income on food, MSU reports.

More than 100 MSU scientists, aided by rural leaders, have put together more than 1,000 pages of projections in MSU's "Project '80."

"This is not necessarily what we would like to see, but what is likely to happen," said Thomas Cowden, dean of MSU's Agricultural College.

Tax Reform Forecast
"The role of Project '80 is to bring the best information available to the attention of rural Michigan and to stimulate people to discuss the future and plan accordingly," adds a digest of the final reports.

MSU released the final reports at the opening of its annual Farmers' Week, which attracts about 30,000 agriculturists.

The projections range from a doubling of lima bean production to adoption by the state of tax reform including a state income tax.

The reports say the farmer will enjoy a 5 to 20 per cent increase in prices he receives, but also will have to pay 25 per cent more for the things he buys.

Meanwhile, his increased efficiency—the result of research—will mean the consumer will spend only about 15 per cent of his income on food, compared with about 19 per cent now, MSU economist Lester Mander-scheid said.

The consumer also will eat less, the reports say, because he is more likely to have a sitting-down job and to be worried about his weight.

Unless changes are made, MSU economist Karl Wright expects net farm income in Michigan in 1990 will total about $200 million—24 per cent less than in 1959-63.

Wright said this income will be shared by about 55,000 farmers, compared with 112,000 in 1959—and about 99,000 now—meaning net income per farm of about $3,600, an increase of 600 per cent.

He added that in 1959, 73 per cent of Michigan's commercial farmers had gross incomes of less than $10,000.

Bob Hope Gets College Degree

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—It's going to be Dr. Bob Hope from now on.

The comedian received an honorary degree from Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa., at a dinner.

The presentation of the degree of doctor of humane letters is part of the school's 100th anniversary celebration.

Supersonic airlines of the future will fly coast to coast or across the Atlantic in about two hours.

MSU Launches Farmers' Week

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University opened its 51st Farmers' Week Monday, with about 30,000 persons expected to attend more than 200 programs of education, entertainment and business.

Programs range from "potassium fertilizers for sugar beets" to the midwinter business meeting of the Michigan Flying Farmers.

The theme is "rural Michigan—Now and In 1989." MSU released final reports Monday on its Project '80, in which more than 100 scientists have been at work two years gathering data on what rural Michigan probably will be like in 1990.

Monday was Dairy Day, featuring business meetings of the various dairy breeders association.

J. Franklin Heim, a Parma dairy farmer, received MSU's "Dairyman of the Year" award.

Today's program includes sessions on agricultural economics, engineering, animal husbandry, crop science, forestry, horticulture, poultry science and resource development.

New Rockefeller Enters Politics As A Democrat

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another Rockefeller has entered politics — but in West Virginia of all places, and as a Democrat, of all things.

He is John D. (Jay) Rockefeller IV, great grandson of the empire builder and member of one of the nation's best-known Republican families. Jay, whose Uncle Nelson is Republican governor of New York and whose Uncle Winthrop is a GOP gubernatorial candidate in Arkansas, filed Monday for a seat in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Now 28, he was a registered Republican for five years. "The decision in itself was not difficult," he said. "But you just don't walk out on that much tradition without a lot of thought."

Jay said he went to Arkansas to talk with Winthrop and recently met with Nelson in New York. "I received their support," he said, "because it's important to them that I do what makes sense for me as a person."

Was Poverty Worker
He arrived in West Virginia in July 1964, and has been a neighborhood social worker in the Action for Appalachian Youth Program. Most of the past 18 months he has spent at nearby Emmons working with people he says never had a chance.

"If anything," he said, "my candidacy grows out of my work here. Political decisions affect people so immediately and so forcefully that the legislative level seemed a natural followup to anyone trying to solve problems common to an area like Emmons."

He explained his political switch this way:

"When I registered as a Republican five years ago, I had just gotten back from 18 months of study in Japan and my uncle was seeking the presidential nomination."

"I feel very deeply about my family. Historically, ours is a name that has been associated with Republicanism. But an even stronger family tradition has been the proposition that which best reflects you as an individual is that which brings out the best in you."

Moves To Charleston
"Politics is a lifetime commitment and honesty to self is essential. To have remained a Republican would have been to subordinate my own conclusions and instincts to an undefined feeling of what others think I should be."

The tall, handsome Ivy League bachelor is the son of John D. Rockefeller III of New York, chairman of the board of trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation. He recently moved into his own house in Charleston and says he plans to stay in West Virginia permanently.

"This is my home now," he said. Before coming to West Virginia, Rockefeller graduated from

Limited Review Granted Hoffa In Tampering Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to a limited review of James R. Hoffa's conviction in 1964 on jury-tampering charges.

In a brief order, the court said it would hear the teamsters Union president's appeal on one question alone. That is: "Whether evidence obtained by the government by means of deceptively placing a secret informer in the quarters and councils of a defendant during one criminal trial so violates the defendant's fourth, fifth and Sixth Amendment rights that suppression of such evidence is required in a subsequent trial of the same defendant on a different charge."

ONCE A SWAMP
Miami Beach, Fla., a 7.4-square-mile island separated from Miami by Biscayne Bay, was a mangrove swamp until 1912, when reclamation and development of the island began.

Harvard, studied oriental philosophy in Japan, did graduate work at Yale and worked as an assistant to Sargent Shriver, then director of the Peace Corps. He later took a position with the State Department and moved on to the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency, where he became interested in the Appalachian youth program.

He will be seeking the Democratic nomination for one of 14 seats in the lower chamber from Kanawha County, where Republicans are outnumbered 8 to 5.

In a bedroom, particularly, the homey warmth of Early American decor is pleasing. A brass bedstead, an heirloom quilted coverlet, and fine, old carved oak chests can form a nucleus for a happy return to the past.

If these exist already in the family, most of the job is done. If not, a search for furnishings must begin — either through antique dealers or in furniture stores where good reproductions are to be had. Once the principal pieces are procured, decorating turns to the walls and floor to provide the proper setting.

Traditional in Early American decor are pine paneling and finely figured wallpapers, often used in combination. Both are easily obtainable today. Ponderosa pine, with its honey brown coloring, is the favorite among the pines for full-wall paneling and wainscoting.

The choice between pine boards with knots and knot-free paneling is personal. But, as a general rule of thumb, gear the selection to the amount of pattern and texture needed in the room. If figured wallpaper is also to be used, plus a braid rug and patterned quilt, it's wise to select clear vertical grain or flat grain boards in preference to those that have distinctive knots. If pattern is at a minimum, knot-free panel boards can be delightful.

Finish the pine clear to capture its warm coloring. A modern plastic varnish in the "hand-rubbed" finish is smart to use and has the soft sheen of waxed, rubbed wood.

For the floor covering, there are several possibilities. One carpeting pattern successfully simulates the appearance of a rag rug, bringing with it the multitude of color tones and textures that creates a surprisingly neutral look. Good florals are also making a return. And, of course, an authentic braid rug over polished wood is always a winner.

Remember, always, that Early American decorating is an intensely personal affair. Its charm depends directly on the personal touch and on the mix of European and American crafted furnishings that existed in Great Grandfather's home.

Brazil shares a common border with all other South American countries except Chile and Ecuador.

MSU 'Project 80'

Decline In Food Costs Predicted

EAST LANSING (AP)—After two years' study, Michigan State University, told rural Michigan Monday what it might look forward to in 1980—and what it might try to avoid.

One problem to avoid, it indicated, is a continuation of the cost-price squeeze on farmers.

Consumers, meanwhile, can look forward to spending a smaller and smaller percentage of their income on food, MSU reports.

More than 100 MSU scientists, aided by rural leaders, have put together more than 1,000 pages of projections in MSU's "Project '80."

"This is not necessarily what we would like to see, but what is likely to happen," said Thomas Cowden, dean of MSU's Agricultural College.

Tax Reform Forecast
"The role of Project '80 is to bring the best information available to the attention of rural Michigan and to stimulate people to discuss the future and plan accordingly," adds a digest of the final reports.

MSU released the final reports at the opening of its annual Farmers' Week, which attracts about 30,000 agriculturists.

The projections range from a doubling of lima bean production to adoption by the state of tax reform including a state income tax.

The reports say the farmer will enjoy a 5 to 20 per cent increase in prices he receives, but also will have to pay 25 per cent more for the things he buys.

Meanwhile, his increased efficiency—the result of research—will mean the consumer will spend only about 15 per cent of his income on food, compared with about 19 per cent now, MSU economist Lester Mander-scheid said.

The consumer also will eat less, the reports say, because he is more likely to have a sitting-down job and to be worried about his weight.

Unless changes are made, MSU economist Karl Wright expects net farm income in Michigan in 1980 will total about $200 million—24 per cent less than in 1959-63.

Wright said this income will be shared by about 55,000 farmers, compared with 112,000 in 1959—and about 99,000 now—meaning net income per farm of about $3,600, an increase of 600 per cent.

He added that in 1959, 73 per cent of Michigan's commercial farmers had gross incomes of less than $10,000.

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — It's going to be Dr. Bob Hope from now on.

MSU Launches Farmers' Week

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University opened its 51st Farmers' Week Monday, with about 30,000 persons expected to attend more than 200 programs of education, entertainment and business.

Programs range from "potassium fertilizers for sugar beets" to the midwinter business meeting of the Michigan Flying Farmers.

The theme is "rural Michigan—Now and In 1980." MSU released final reports Monday on its Project '80, in which more than 100 scientists have been at work two years gathering data on what rural Michigan probably will be like in 1980.

Monday was Dairy Day, featuring business meetings of the various dairy breeders association.

J. Franklin Heim, a Parma dairy farmer, received MSU's "Dairymen of the Year" award.

Today's program includes sessions on agricultural economics, engineering, animal husbandry, crop science, forestry, horticulture, poultry science and resource development.

New Rockefeller Enters Politics As A Democrat

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Another Rockefeller has entered politics — but in West Virginia of all places, and as a Democrat, of all things.

He is John D. (Jay) Rockefeller IV, great grandson of the empire builder and member of one of the nation's best-known Republican families. Jay, whose Uncle Nelson is Republican governor of New York and whose Uncle Winthrop is a GOP gubernatorial candidate in Arkansas, filed Monday for a seat in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Now 28, he was a registered Republican for five years. "The decision in itself was not difficult," he said. "But you just don't walk out on that much tradition without a lot of thought."

Jay said he went to Arkansas to talk with Winthrop and recently met with Nelson in New York. "I received their support," he said, "because it's important to them that I do what makes sense for me as a person."

Was Poverty Worker

He arrived in West Virginia in July 1964, and has been a neighborhood social worker in the Action for Appalachian Youth Program. Most of the past 18 months he has spent at nearby Emmons working with people he says never had a chance.

"If anything," he said, "my candidacy grows out of my work here. Political decisions affect people so immediately and so forcefully that the legislative level seemed a natural followup to anyone trying to solve problems common to an area like Emmons."

He explained his political switch this way:

"When I registered as a Republican five years ago, I had just gotten back from 18 months of study in Japan and my uncle was seeking the presidential nomination."

"I feel very deeply about my family. Historically, ours is a name that has been associated with Republicanism. But an even stronger family tradition has been the proposition that which best reflects you as an individual is that which brings out the best in you."

Moves To Charleston

"Politics is a lifetime commitment and honesty to self is essential. To have remained a Republican would have been to subordinate my own conclusions and instincts to an undefined feeling of what others think I should be."

The tall, handsome Ivy League bachelor is the son of John D. Rockefeller III of New York, chairman of the board of trustees of the Rockefeller Foundation. He recently moved into his own house in Charleston and says he plans to stay in West Virginia permanently.

"This is my home now," he said.

Before coming to West Virginia, Rockefeller graduated from

Limited Review Granted Hoffa In Tampering Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to a limited review of James R. Hoffa's conviction in 1964 on jury-tampering charges.

In a brief order, the court said it would hear the teamsters Union president's appeal on one question alone. That is: "Whether evidence obtained by the government by means of deceptively placing a secret informer in the quarters and councils of a defendant during one criminal trial so violates the defendant's fourth, fifth and Sixth Amendment rights that suppression of such evidence is required in a subsequent trial of the same defendant on a different charge."

ONCE A SWAMP

Miami Beach, Fla., a 7.4-square-mile island separated from Miami by Biscayne Bay, was a mangrove swamp until 1912, when reclamation and development of the island began.

Harvard, studied oriental philosophy in Japan, did graduate work at Yale and worked as an assistant to Sargent Shriver, then director of the Peace Corps. He later took a position with the State Department and moved on to the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency, where he became interested in the Appalachian youth program.

He will be seeking the Democratic nomination for one of 14 seats in the lower chamber from Kanawha County, where Republicans are outnumbered 8 to 5.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
After reading the hint from a teacher concerning the method she used for teaching pupils to add (cutting large numbers from a calendar and forming problems on her table.) I'd like to offer my solution to that same problem:
I taught my children to add by using DOMINOES!
This was so successful that my daughter now uses this same method with her children. Besides being educational, the children enjoy playing the game.

Mrs. G. Wooden

Dear Heloise:
Sandwich bags are ideal for storing quilt pieces. I keep pieces for each block in a separate bag.
So handy to pick up in a few spare moments.

Sharon Miller

Dear Heloise:
I've found another use for the plastic, snap-top detergent bottles.
I fill one with liquid floor wax from the large container, and just squeeze the bottle gently, and it squirts out the exact amount of wax I need for each area of the floor.

Another advantage is that I don't have to lug around the heavy can of wax.

Helen Carpenter

Dear Gals:
Ever reach for a clean dress in your closet when you were going somewhere in a hurry, and thought the dress had been washed and ironed or freshly cleaned, only to find out, too late, that it was wrinkled or had a spot on it?

True, you wore it only once, and it's wearable some places. I used to do this all the time until I learned that after I had worn a garment, if I hang it back on the hanger wrong-side-out I could tell, at a glance, that it had been worn before.

Also saves on laundry, as I found that now I will invariably grab this garment first when going to the store, or for wear around the house. Keeps me on my toes trying to put and keep all clean things in my closet.

I have also learned to turn sweaters wrong-side-out after wearing them once! Remember that body oils rot and fade fabrics.

Never pack anything away for a season that has not been properly washed or cleaned. By using the Heloise method, you will know at a glance.

Forgetful Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I have found so many uses for an old toothbrush, and today my handy toothbrush solved the problem of cleaning those corners of window panes that always elude the washing cloth.

Now I feel that my windows are clean.

Thanks so much for your useful hints — you've made my life simpler.

Claire W. Bayer

Dear Heloise:
After turning my sewing box upside down each time I needed some colored thread, I hit upon the following solution:

I strung 22 spools of different colored thread onto a piece of heavy cord, and tied the ends of the cord together.

Now I can find any color thread without any searching. I just break off as much as I need. The spool spins on the cord when pulling off the desired length, so that it is not necessary to remove a spool from the cord itself.

When one color has been used I just replace it with another.

Mrs. E. A. Trevethan

Dear Heloise:
Here is one of my son's favorite hot school lunches:

I put two heated weiners in a wide-mouth vacuum bottle, then pour in hot soup!

I put prepared (he likes mustard) hot dog buns in a sandwich bag, and put a fork in his lunch box to fish the weiners out of the soup, and a spoon to eat the soup with.

Not only does he have a hot weiner on his bun, but the nice hot soup as well.

Martha Thompson

Dear Heloise:
When going out on a windy day, and not wanting to wear a hat, I wear an invisible hairnet, and use hair spray over the net.

That way, it not only keeps my hair in place, but holds the net on without any pins.

'Safety Car' Plans Unveiled

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Preliminary plans for a "safety car," unveiled Monday at the Capitol, envisioned motorists of the future tooling along the highway in a streamlined strongbox that would cut traffic injuries in half.

With state officials looking on, aviation engineers hired by the state displayed drawings of a vehicle they said incorporated 134 engineering features designed to reduce accidents and injury.

The automobile, similar in size to today's sedan, featured: —Mounting the engine so it would move downward instead of into the passenger compartment in a crash.

Headlights and tail lights that can be seen from the side. —A forward passing mirror. —A periscope on the roof to give drivers a clear view in back and in front.

Padded, bucket seats equipped with headrests, seatbelts and shoulder harnesses, plus restraints for children.

A plastic gasoline tank that would not burst in a collision.

The preliminary report was prepared under a $100,000 contract with Republic Aviation Division of Fairchild Hiller Corp. of Farmingdale.

And, he adds: "Someday my wife Brenda and I will plant acres and acres of fields brimming with four-leaf clover plants in the Great Northwest. We'll offer folks the opportunity to pick one. ## Potato Acreage Goes Up Again

Upper Peninsula farmers who have been growing Russet Burbank potatoes for several years noted that in 1965 it became Michigan's "Big Potato."

The reason was the establishment of a processing plant at Greenville in Lower Michigan. The growth of the variety has been so great that 1,000 acres were planted in 1965 for seed for the 1966 crop and this will not nearly be enough to plant the entire acreage to be devoted to the species.

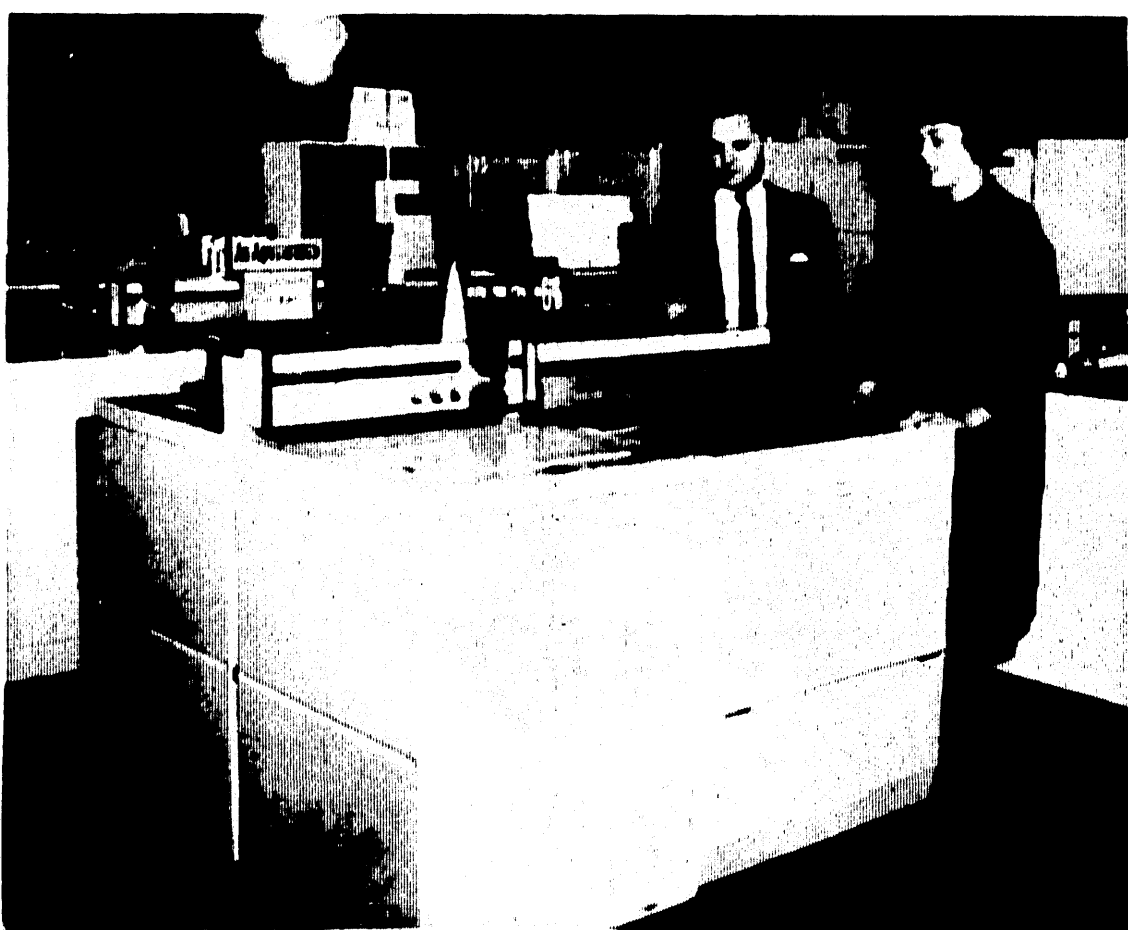

Michigan is rapidly receiving recognition as producer of quality Burbanks. "A few more years should put Michigan producers on a par with the Idaho growers," says Joseph Heitman, Delta County Extension director. "When this happens the Michigan producers will have an advantage on freight rates to the Mid-West markets."

"Just 10 years ago Michigan potato growers were fighting a losing battle. They had no statewide organization to promote the potato industry. Different parts of the state were

When Sidie Dahlka Sold Ducks

And Whistlers Were Salooners

BY LEE SMITS

To say that Sidie Dahlka was the best duck hunter between Port Huron and Toledo might be excessive. However, it can be said that there was none better, sneak-shooting. Sidie weighed maybe 140, he wore glasses, smoked cigarettes in a long holder. An accidental clip with an axe when he was a boy had given him a wry neck from which his nickname was derived.

Sidie was a loner, sharp-spoken, opinionated. At one time his wife, Em, shot with him but not after they hauled their houseboat out at Gibraltar and built a snug home around it. His open motorboat, sneakboat and decoys of his own making were always kept in perfect order. Even in a sudden fall gale, Sidie would manage, single-handed, to pick up 100 decoys with 22-foot strings and make port with no fuss. He was deadly with a pump gun. After an even half century of shooting Sidie said he was through. He and Em retired to Florida, where Sidie died a few years ago.

In his teens Sidie was employed by Alex Talsman and later by August Marxhausen, who in turn owned Calf Island opposite Trenton. At the upper end of the island there was a concrete blind. At the lower end a pair of Irish water spaniel-rat-tails retrieved dead ducks as they floated past, chased cripples and kept the day's kill neatly piled on the beach.

SIDIE belonged to a duck-hunting family. His brothers, Uncle Bill and Cuddy, were famous on the river and the upper end of Lake Erie. Cuddy was a pioneer in layout shooting. He operated a place called the Casino and the dimensions for his first layout boat were arrived at by chalking the outline of the boat around Cuddy as he lay on the dance floor. Uncle Bill, a carpenter and builder, made his own decoys. Their nephews, Hy Dahlka, marine contractor, and Hy's brother, Captain Kenneth Dahlka, owner of the charter yacht, Dec Cee, are prominent wildfowling. Hy Dahlka is the originator and permanent chairman of the Duck Hunters Tournament, held annually at the Pointe Mouillee Game Refuge Area headquarters for 18 years.

All winter Sidie bought grain to feed ducks at the lower end of the Detroit River, opposite his home. That tradition is carried on by his nephew, Hy, who can look out of a big picture glass window in his home, in Gibraltar, and enjoy the spectacle of a hundred or so feeding ducks, bluebill, mallard, blacks, a few canvasback and redhead.

WHAT BROUGHT on these recollections is a flock of ducks, feeding in the Detroit River at the foot of 3rd St. These are golden-eye, also known as whistlers or whistle wings because of the sound made by their wings. Of the 200 ducks in this flock, no more than eight or 10 are females, a ratio not uncommon since males and females spend considerable time apart from each other.

Duck hunters have local nicknames for various species. Sidie Dahlka called golden-eyes "saloon ducks." During the winter he shot them in openings in the river and lake ice, using, at most, half a dozen decoys. Saturday in that far-off time was payday and Saturday night was given to beer-buying and good fellowship.

SIDIE would attire himself in a ice-shooter's rig, complete with a white butcher's gown, and enter a saloon, festooned with the week's kill of whistlers. He explained that he had just stopped in for a short beer, but would immediately be surrounded by convivialists, burdened with their week's pay. They wanted to buy ducks. Sidie was reluctant to sell, having other plans for disposing of the whistle-wings.

However, under pressure, Sidie would hold a kind of impromptu auction, letting his ducks go to high bidders until he had received a dollar or more each for two or three dozen ducks, and not very flavormore ducks, at that.

But a buck whistler is spectacular, with black and white plumage and a glossy black-green head. A whistler weighs almost as much as a redhead, but looks bigger because of heavy feathers.

No purchaser ever complained and Sidie always had a kindly feeling toward the rugged species.

RUDYARD — A federal grant of $230,295 has been approved for an addition on the Turner-Howson elementary school here. A library, six classrooms and three special education rooms will be built. The federal funds are available under a program which aids school districts with unusually large influx of children of military personnel. Rudyard is located near Kincheloe Air Force Base.

GWINN — A new translator TV tower, which will provide for an addition on the Turner-Howson elementary school here. A library, six classrooms and three special education rooms will be built. The federal funds are available under a program which aids school districts with unusually large influx of children of military personnel. Rudyard is located near Kincheloe Air Force Base.

ST. IGNACE — The "ice bridge" from St. Ignace to Mackinac Island is frozen solid, allowing travel to the mainland for year-around island residents. Dale Gallagher of Mackinac Island will operate daily passenger service to the island with an open cockpit air sled.

MARQUETTE — Declarations of bankruptcy in the Upper Peninsula are increasing, according to U. S. District Court records here. Number of bankruptcies increased 17 from 1964 to 1965. Of 700 bankruptcy petitions filed in the past 20 years 278 have come in the past four years.

LARGE PARK — Largest park in an American city is Philadelphia's Fairmount Park with more than 7,000 acres of wooded slopes and rolling fields bordering the Schuylkill River.

VERSATILE COPTER—A work horse helicopter which can carry passengers or cargo has been developed in Bremen, West Germany, as a joint German-American project. Dubbed the "flying crane," the copter can be fitted with a cabin between its gawky legs to carry 45 passengers. Or it can lift up to eight tons of cargo. In successful tests, it has placed high-tension towers, picked up aircraft in inaccessible terrain and been used in air-sea rescue operations.

GETTING THE WORD ACROSS—U.S. planes deliver more than bombs on missions over Viet Cong territory. Aircraft also are a key means of carrying on the propaganda war in Viet Nam. Quicksand is as common as ever today and is found along shores and in river beds. It is ordinary sand supersaturated with water under pressure from beneath, as from a spring.

Anyone caught in quicksand should lie on his back and stretch out his arms without fear of being sucked down. Even at its worst, quicksand will support much more weight than water alone.

Reward Posted For Heat Thief

ALPENA (AP)—A $5,000 reward is being offered for arrest and conviction of whoever shut off the natural gas supply to some 2,000 Alpena homes in near-zero temperatures Sunday.

The reward was posted Monday by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which said it cost about $10,000 to restore gas service in this city of 14,000 population.

The utility said both the FBI and State Police had been asked to check out leads.

Most homeowners who lost their gas supply were able to keep heat going from fire places or electric appliances, although some families had to confine themselves to single rooms.

The gas company said some one apparently climbed a five-foot fence at a pumping station and turned off main valves. It added whoever was involved "knew what he was doing."

Company employees had to shut off valves to individual homes, then return when main valves were opened to relight pilot lights and test appliances.

Newsweek Magazine Reports That

Industries Like Tech's Grads

Newsweek Magazine gives Michigan Tech at Houghton national publicity as an outstanding school for preparation for technical jobs in an article titled "GM in Their Future." It states:

At Michigan Technological University, far up the upper Michigan peninsula, winter brings a thousand snowfalls and almost as many job recruiters. Though not graced with the prestige of an MIT or Cal Tech, MTU still draws tribes of engineering head-hunters from companies like General Motors, Ford and Inland Steel. Last year, MTU welcomed more recruiters, 533, than it had graduating seniors, 517. The payoff came with 1-210 job offers, some for $10,500 a year.

Recruiting at the Houghton campus intensifies between terms. And last week, GM flew in 27 interviewers from Detroit, 600 miles away. GM hired 55 MTU seniors last year. "This year," promises George Jacoby, GM's personnel director, "will probably see the most intense recruitment competition in recent years."

Recruiters find that more and more college seniors are content to pass up the sure job and go on for a higher degree both to keep away the draft and assure themselves a better job in the long run. To overcome their reluctance, U. S. companies will send some 600 recruiters to MTU before June.

Why MTU, which boasts neither a wind tunnel nor a nuclear reactor like the University of Michigan? Practical-minded companies like GM think MTU's training still emphasizes the "how-to" of engineering in an age when other major engineering schools are emphasizing research and theory. "It has come to the point where graduates from those schools aren't willing to get their hands dirty any more," claims MTU Vice President Edwin T. Williams. "So we educate the people who do the country's work."

Recruiters are also drawn by the single-mindedness of the MTU students. "You don't find Joe College types up here," said one interviewer. "These boys are willing to work." In a way, they have little choice. MTU offers its 3,400 students (240 of them women) few distractions — two movies, a few small restaurants and bars and limitless wilderness. (Orientation week at MTU includes a lecture on wilderness survival.)

"These boys are not lost in the supersophistication of the big campus," said a recruiter, "with its beatniks, fraternities, clubs and demonstrations."

In fact, most MTU students are not lost at all. Sons of farmers, factory workers and merchants, they know what they want and MTU trains them to get it. At the start of each year, MTU's steel-gray-haired placement director, Richard T. Dunnebacke, delivers an hour's lecture on recruitment, interview techniques, and how to analyze career opportunities. Each senior's resume, is distributed to 1,500 firms across the U. S. The school also provides guest rooms for recruiters.

By the time the recruiter comes, the students are ready for him. "You wonder sometimes who's interviewing whom," says Stanley J. Chalmers, a personnel assistant at GM. "They want to know if we have the job they want where they want it."

Chalmers really has little to complain about. Many MTU graduates have been looking toward GM since they first bought a slide rule. "You've grown up with GM in the back of your mind," says James Williams, 24, an applied physics major from Grand Rapids. "You don't even know who some of the other companies are."

GM's Jacoby maintains that his company's success comes from "a good down-to-earth practical approach. We try to avoid the ballyhoo other firms have been accused of using — cocktail parties, flying boys in on company planes." Then he added: "Sure you fly him in and buy him lunch, but you don't give him a floor show."

Others, like Inland Steel's Dewey Conces, attribute GM's drawing power to sheer size. "GM is like ten companies," he laments.

Some critics may feel that MTU is turning out only human cogs for industry assembly lines, but the school is proud of its vocational orientation. While schools like MIT have broadened their humanities programs, MTU still offers only about a year of liberal-arts courses. "We don't apologize for Tech," says Donald Yerg, director of graduate studies. "We consciously emphasize technical competence."

Judge O'Hara Set To Retire

DETROIT (AP) — Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara, 75, who has served on the bench since 1953, has announced his retirement effective March 1. In 1954 O'Hara was a one-man grand jury investigating alleged bribery of Detroit Policemen by gamblers.

Iron Mining Era Ends On Range

BESSEMER — The Peterson Mine, last of the underground iron ore mines on the Gogebic Range, was silent Monday.

Parking lots which once bustled with vehicles were almost deserted. The coldness of winter began to close in. The end of an era.

Production of iron ore at the mine ceased Friday when the 50 men on the night shift put down their tools and were hoisted to the surface for the last time. The men were the last of a 225-man crew to lose their jobs.

The final shutdown affected about 170. Some 55 others were laid off in cutbacks Nov. 14 after initial announcement of the closing was made last November by Pickands, Mather Co.

Pickands, Mather had operated the mine for Granite City Steel Co., owners since 1962.

The Peterson Mine was opened in 1953 about a half-mile from the site where the first Gogebic Range iron ore was mined in 1884 at the original Colby mine. Total production of the Peterson mine was about five million tons.

Production was ceased because it was no longer economically feasible to develop additional tonnage, a Pickands, Mather official said.

The mine workers contract provides for preferential hiring of hourly employees throughout the Lake Superior operations of P-M as jobs are available. A. L. Johnson, Peterson superintendent, said there are openings for about 40 men at the Erie Mining Co. plant which P-M operates at Hoyt Lakes, Minn.

There is no chance of the Peterson Mine ever resuming operations.

Workmen began removing equipment which can be salvaged Monday. The mine will officially close Friday.

Pumps will halt for the last time. And the tunnels and shafts will fill up with water.

Mothers Plan Dimes March

The 1966 March of Dimes Mother's March will be held in Escanaba Monday evening, Feb. 14, with Mrs. Joseph Heirman and Mrs. Robert Cousineau the chairmen.

They will coordinate the city wide effort of mothers calling homes to leave educational materials about the March of Dimes fight against birth defects and to accept contributions.

Birth defects are the nation's greatest destroyer of life. It was pointed out. The United States lags behind 11 major nations in the prevention of infant deaths, and at least 250,000 babies are born each year with serious birth defects.

This year for the first time, the March of Dimes is sponsoring a nation wide public education program to encourage mothers to seek prenatal care which medical authorities assert, can minimize the risks of prematurity and stillbirths, and reduce the possibility of defective births.

Pioneered by the March of Dimes in its regional treatment centers, improved diagnostic methods, new medical and surgical techniques and extensive rehabilitation have revolutionized the outlook for babies born with defects.

The March of Dimes is also supporting the largest national non-governmental scientific research program, in birth defects. To assist the thousands of birth defect victims the March of Dimes has established more than 50 treatment centers where expert care and rehabilitation are now available.

Grocery Owner In Manistique Dies At Age 61

MANISTIQUE — Grover Winkle, 61, proprietor of Riverside Grocery on Houghton Ave., died at 10:50 p. m. Monday in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. He had been seriously ill for three months.

Prior to operating the store here he had been a butcher in Ann Arbor.

The body was removed to Messier - Broullre Funeral Home, where arrangements are incomplete.

Invite Singers For 'Messiah'

An invitation is being issued by the Escanaba Area Public School music department to persons in the Delta County area who would like to join the High School Choir in a presentation of Handel's "The Messiah" on Palm Sunday, April 3 at 3 p. m.

Only one rehearsal a week will be held beginning on Monday, Feb. 14 in Room F 106 of the Escanaba Area Senior High School. Rehearsals will be from 7 to 9 p. m. Especially needed will be tenors who are familiar with the musical score.

Conrad Beck, who will be the director, asks that all ex-Orpheus Chorus members who have sung the Messiah in years past attend, and also Bay de Noc students who were members of the choir when the Messiah was presented to the community in 1961.

New citizens to the community since the last presentation, if they have had experience in singing the score or read music rapidly, are also asked to attend. Other interested high school students in the area, if they read music rapidly, are invited to attend the rehearsals.

The tradition in Escanaba area has been to present "The Messiah" during the Christmas season. This is not to say that singing it during the Lent and Easter season is contrary to tradition. The second section of this score is especially appropriate for this season, Beck said.

Plans are being made to use as much local talent as possible for the solo sections. It is the hope of the director that with the interested adults and ex-students, the choir will number over 300.

OUTSTANDING SERVICE to the community by the Odd Fellows of Escanaba was recognized with the presentation of a plaque to the lodge. A certificate from the John Hopkins University Hospital World Eye Bank Fund was also received. Pictured (from left) are Carl Richter, chaplain; Olaf Peterson, treasurer; John Breitman, vice grand; Kenneth Jensen, noble grand; Runar Norman, recording secretary; Howard Walker, financial secretary; and Charles Hammar, hospital program chairman. ## Increased Medical Help Boosts Welfare Spending

The federal and state program of welfare and is taking over more of the cost once borne by the counties in Michigan, but in Delta County the new effort to supplement the federal-state program is now costing more than county used to spend when it bore more of the cost.

The situation is an evidence of the growing affluence and tendency to use more and more government funds—and taxes—to care for the needy and persons with marginal income. In Delta County, although employment and the general economy are at almost boom levels, welfare costs are continuing to rise as the level of poverty declines. The reason is the willingness of government to help people more. Delta seems far out front in the Upper Peninsula in this process.

New Cost Basis
Tom McDermott, Delta County Welfare Department director, explained that since Oct. 1, 1965 there is a ceiling of $76,000 on what Delta County can spend from its own funds on director relief. Because the county's state equalized tax valuation is $76 million, if it spends more than one mill on direct relief ($76,000 a year) the state pays for the relief in excess of the one mill or $76,000. In November and December of 1965 the state paid for all Delta's direct relief costs, the county having already spent its $76,000. Up to this limit the county pays 60 per cent of direct relief costs and the state 40 per cent.

The State Department of Social Welfare reported that in November Delta County direct relief costs soared. Its cases leaped from 96 in November, 1964 to 175 in November, 1965.

Medical Aid Change
This does not represent a sharp upturn in relief cases caused by unemployment or other welfare problems, but reflects a new policy of the Delta County Welfare Board on supplementation of income—especially for medical expenses like doctor bills and drugs—for persons receiving government aid.

McDermott explained that $90 a month is maximum a person can receive under the Social Security System's Old Age Assistance. The recipient's needs may be $120 a month and not $90. The county makes up the difference.

This policy raised Delta County spending on direct relief from $7,140 in November, 1964 to $11,296 in November, 1965.

Marquette Up

The Delta spending was the fourth highest among the 15 U. P. counties despite Delta's good economic situation. Gogebic County reduced its cases but increased its spending. Houghton increased both its cases and spending. So did Marquette, which jumped from 125 to 153 cases and in spending from $9,209 to $24,327. Menominee County reduced cases from 101 to 92 and increased spending only from $6050 to $6335.

Most (8) U. P. counties reduced their direct relief cases in November. Nine increased their spending.

Aid Formula

Medical bill payments boosted Delta's increase most importantly. "The people on assistance are getting a little more to live on," said McDermott. He said that the 175 direct relief cases in November were 45 for maintenance and 130 for supplemental aid, like medical bills. In November, 1964 the 96 cases on direct relief had only 36 on maintenance and 60 on supplement.

The Delta Welfare Department allows $30 a month for food for one person living alone, and $25 for one person living with others. It allows $12 for incidents ($7 for clothing, $5 for toiletries, etc), $14 for fuel, $6 for utilities and a maximum of $70 for shelter, rent, etc. This is a maximum of $62 a month without shelter. "An Old Age Assistance client may get by on $90 a month, but not very well, so we give a medical supplement," said McDermott. This consists of paying actual medical care and drug bills for outpatient ill.

Mrs. Cassidy Dies Monday

Mrs. Timothy Cassidy, 610 Lake Shore Drive, one of Upper Michigan's top artists and friend of art, died at 1:30 p. m. Monday in St. Francis Hospital after a week's illness.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 3:30 to 9:30 p. m. Wednesday. The St. Joseph Church Altar Society will say prayers at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, the Third Order of St. Francis at 7 p. m. and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Thursday in St. Joseph's Church with the Rev. Farrell Byers, O.F.M. officiating. The body will be taken to the Holy Cross Cemetery crypt and moved to Holy Redeemer Cemetery, Eyota, Minn., for burial.

Mrs. Cassidy was the former Margaret Dowd, born in Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dowd, prominent residents of that city. Her husband, Timothy M. Cassidy, formerly of Eyota, Minn., was prominent in Escanaba as the superintendent of the Peninsula Division here of the Chicago & North Western Railway, who died four years ago.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Rosanna M. Dowd, a retired teacher of the Boston school system, who had been with her sister here for the past eight months.

Mrs. Cassidy was a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art and took courses at Radcliffe and at Harvard University. She had been in charge of the Art Departments of Cambridge,

Mrs. Timothy Cassidy

Mass., High School and Latin School, and later in charge of the Art Departments at St. Teresa College and Winona State Teachers College in Winona, Minn.

During her 25 years of residence in Escanaba she had participated actively in the area's art activities as an artist, as an art teacher and as a friend of art. Her paintings had been exhibited at the Escanaba Library, State Office Building and U. P. State Fair. She gave freely of her time in civic affairs and was a leader in volunteer efforts of the Red Cross in World War II.

She was a member of St. Joseph's Church and its Altar Society and the Third Order of St. Francis.

Indian Territory and the Territory of Oklahoma were merged to form the state of Oklahoma.

Buster Keaton Dies Of Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Buster Keaton, 70, the baggy-pants comedian of the silent screen, died today.

A spokesman said he succumbed to lung cancer at his home in suburban Woodland Hills.

His wife of about 25 years, Eleanor, was at his side. Keaton had two sons by actress Natalia Talmadge — James, of Santa Monica, and Robert, of nearby Marina del Rey.

Keaton had been under treatment for cancer for about three months.

He was one of the great comics of the silent screen era and one of the last surviving giants of that day. He had been in show business nearly all his life, starting as a child. In recent years he had done character spots in movies and guest shots on television shows.

Four Year Terms

The thing that congressmen applauded loudest in President Johnson's State of the Union message was his proposal that their terms be increased from two years to four years.

New congressmen and those from districts which switch their allegiance from Republican to Democratic and vice versa were most in favor of the four year terms. They suggested that as Congress sessions grow longer and its work more complex they are distracted from their lawmaking work too often by the need for campaigning for re-election when their term is only two years.

This statement doesn't bear much inspection. Four-fifths of the members of the House of Representatives have been serving for four years or more so there's not much turnover and those who are there have had the benefit of four years or more to learn the complexities of congressional life.

Senators are not nearly so interested in a four year term for representatives because it would mean that more congressmen, freed of the necessity of thinking about re-election every two years, would be thinking of running for the U. S. Senate and its 6 years between elections. (The proposal in its present form would require a representative to resign at least a month before election day if he decided to run for the Senate, and this should give some protection to senators from competition from the lower house.)

Some congressmen who feel secure in their jobs don't favor a four year term for the House. Brooklyn Democrat Emanuel Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee who has served 22 terms in Congress, says "The House represents the people and they should have the right to register their will more often than every four years."

The Johnson proposal's most controversial item is its suggestion to elect the entire House in the presidential election every four years. If this proposal were adopted, after 1972 the president's party would not suffer its traditional off year loss of House seats, which results in part from the absence of the President's coattails for a ride into office, and in part from public reaction to the administration's record.

The reason the American people should oppose a four year term for their congressmen is that it would further strengthen the power of the presidency. That power already is a matter of concern to political scientists.

President Johnson favors the four year term for congressmen not for congressmen's sake, but for that of the President. Traditionally the President's greatest support in Congress comes in the early years of his administration. Then comes the reaction. If he had his own Congress for the four years of his administration the reaction would be minimized and the President's power enlarged and extended.

The awesome power of the President as now exercised is to be seen in the war in South Viet Nam and in the control of prices of major industrial products. Historian James MacGregor Burns, of Williams College, a longtime adviser to the late John F. Kennedy, sees much that is necessary and good in trends in American government, but he warns in his latest book, "Presidential Government" that: "A great society needs not consensus, but creative leadership and creative opposition. It needs the sting of challenge in a society rich in diversity and in a politics rich in dissent."

The President becomes more and more powerful with the growth of federal government and the size of the national budget. As federal spending programs increase and spread, the President's influence in even local communities increases. The presidency, says Burns, has become a super-office and the President's executive staff has grown to more than 1,500, with the White House "a round-the-clock, round-the-year campaign headquarters."

WOODS WORK

Much is being said and written of a critical shortage of wood cutters for our paper and cedarcraft industries. Both these industries contend their line is very competitive, making it difficult to pay higher wages for raw materials.

The cedarcraft people say they have created a new industry without which there would be little demand for northern white cedar. The new industry part is true, although it is now over 20 years old.

It has been mentioned that the job retraining program is partly to blame for the loss of many young woodsmen to other industries; this even though the young people are advised to better themselves whenever possible. As a boy and as a young man the writer well remembers old lumberjacks advising young men to get out of the woods and learn a better-paying trade before too late.

As for the future, such as good pensions and other benefits, the woods haven't changed much since the days of The Blazed Trail. We do have compulsory accident insurance, which the wood producers pay a high price for. These producers, better known as "jobbers," are not at fault for the low wage and price scales.

Some large scale jobbers still make a profit. This profit, however, is a far cry from what a well-equipped logger should realize. The small operator is on the way out if present conditions aren't changed.

A man who makes a living cutting for others should have a good snow and mud car, preferable a four-wheel drive pickup truck. Or he can own a small trailer and live near the job. Some jobbers furnish suitable shacks, others do not.

To be well-equipped the modern logger should have between $300 and $500 invested. He can also be a bit choosy by selecting good cutting. He cannot afford to cut trashy timber, of which there is an abundant supply.

I write this letter as a former woods worker who has, to date, put in 14 seasons as a Great Lakes steamship fireman. I often thought of quitting and returning to the free life of a woodsman. But a little bird always whispered: "Think, man, think."

I also believe these items to be true, fair and impartial to all parties concerned, be they executive, politician, forester or lowly woodcutter.

Questions And Answers

Q—Why do all snakes look as though they were just staring at a person?

A—Snakes have no movable eyelids and, therefore, cannot blink their eyes.

Q—What president of the United States later became a senator?

A—Andrew Johnson.

Q—Why are lumbermen often referred to as shantyboys?

A—The term is derived from the French chanter, "to sing." The life and the setting of the shantyboy are found in lumbermen's songs.

Q—How many Republican presidents have thus far served two full terms in the White House?

A—Only two—Grant and Eisenhower.

Q—How many people can get inside the head of the Statue of Liberty?

A—The head can accommodate 30 to 40 persons.

Mich Con Is Involved In It

Natural Gas Giants In Battle

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — Giants of the natural gas industry are locked in a fierce checker game which only the Federal Power Commission — or the courts — can end.

They are playing for a billion dollar plus stake in the Canadian-American gas market in a setting in which once arch rivals became bosom buddies, only to see a surprise interloper try to upset their accord.

The prize is who will be allowed to build a $200 million loop line across Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan to give TransCanada Pipe Lines Ltd., of Calgary, Alberta, a shortcut for transportation of gas from western to eastern Canada.

A side issue and one that has aroused American gas producers, interstate pipeline companies, oil, gas and coal trade organizations and state utilities commissions is whether TransCanada, has secret plans to cut into the Upper Midwest market, once the loop system is built.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America, for example, is making a big thing out of the FPC's alleged lack of a fair gas export — import policy and is fighting to curb Canadian exports.

Principals in the contest are: TransCanada; Great Lakes Transmissions Co., of Wilmington, Del., originally set up by line and now half owned by TransCanada to build the loop; American Natural Gas Co., which also owns Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. and Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., of Detroit; Midwestern Gas Transmission Co., owned by Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., of Houston; American's Michigan-Wisconsin which has just merged with American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., and Northern Natural Gas Co., of Omaha, which has formed a subsidiary — Northern Natural Gas Transportation Co. — to build the loop.

Asks FPC Approval
Northern is the unwelcome interloper. It has asked the FPC for the right to install a $199 million loop system on grounds its project — when compared with the others — could save American and Canadian consumers and investors as much as $58 million over a period of five years.

Irony of the competitive situation is that Midwestern and Michigan-Wisconsin originally filed applications opposing TransCanada's Great Lakes project on grounds they could build it cheaper and more advantageously for TransCanada.

While this was grinding through the Federal Power Commission the two companies and TransCanada had second thoughts. Instead of fighting each other, they got together on a deal whereby Midwestern and Michigan-Wisconsin would build an "interim" system to meet TransCanada's requirements until the Great Lakes line could be laid. It was suggested that in the long run this would be mutually advantageous in both the American and Canadian markets.

The FPC has fixed a Jan. 28 deadline for the filing of intervention petitions. A big pile is already on hand. Once these are analyzed, the commission will get down to the business could take a long time and eventually wind up in the courts.

Kerr added that the Great Lakes application was filed with the FPC more than a year ago and that while Northern intervened, "it at no time gave any indication it was planning a competitive system."

These are only the surface facets of the battle which also involves bigger exports of Canadian gas into the upper Midwest.

But the unreality isn't limited to the exodus. One Cuban writes:
"This is to inform you that about 11 months ago I became a 'saint' (member of a secret voodoo organization). Many people are practicing this in Cuba now."

"Another of the big problems in Cuba today is moving," a man writes. "Even divorced or separated couples have to continue living under the same roof until they can find separate quarters."

"The case of some neighbors of ours is typical. This couple, with a child, decided to separate, but as there was no place to move, they had to continue living together. In the meanwhile, the woman met another man with whom she has had two children. Now, all of them live in the same house."

The police have had to intervene in their quarrels several times. It seems the woman has been selling her ex-husband's ration quota in the black market and the man is going hungry. The Communist regime will not issue separate ration cards to each one while they are living under the same roof."

Other Cubans write of other experiences that sound like something written by Gilbert and Sullivan:
"In order to obtain the necessary permit for leaving Cuba, citizens must pay a visit to the Ministry of the Interior, where they have to fill several forms. After filling these, do you know where they are supposed to drop them? Inside an empty toilet paper cardboard box!"

"A friend of mine who is leaving soon, besides having all of his possessions confiscated, was forced to have his car painted before turning it over to the government."
"Five years ago, when the state confiscated all property, if you made the pertinent request, they would allow you to pay 10 per cent of your gross monthly income as rent. For example, if you were paying 50

The Doctor Ann Landers

Says: Marry The Man And Find Out

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
Q — What are the symptoms of sarcoidosis? What is the prognosis? Is it likely to recur? Is it ever completely cured? What is the usual treatment? Is it related to tuberculosis or allergy?

A — Sarcoidosis is a disease in which hard nodules form in the tissues. The symptoms depend on the parts of the body involved. The nodules may exist for a long time without causing any symptoms, then be discovered by accident, as when they are found in the lungs after a routine chest X-ray. Unless there is extensive involvement of a vital organ, the outlook is good.

In the absence of an emergency, a policy of periodic observation by your doctor is the wisest course. Such treatments as deep X-ray and the use of Colchicine cortisone and chloroquine work well in some victims and fail in others. Recurrences are common. The exact cause of the disease is unknown. It resembles tuberculosis in some ways but is not caused by the tubercle bacillus. In some persons, a type of allergy appears to be a causative factor.

Q — My daughter gets frequent styes. What causes them? What can be done for them? Would boric acid solution help?

A — A stye is a small boil (staphylococcal infection) at the edge of an eyelid. It starts as a painful, red swelling. Hot applications will help to bring it to a head. When this happens a physician should lance it and press out the pus. This pus may get on the victim's fingers and be transferred to the other eye. Yellow oxide of mercury ointment placed in the eye will help to control the infection. Boric acid eyewash is of little value and is not recommended. Washing the hands and face with a soap that contains hexachlorophene will help to prevent spreading the germs.

Q — Recently I have noticed a constant sweet taste in my mouth. Could this be due to an excess of sugar in the blood?

A — No. Some persons with a chronic postnasal drip complain of a sweet taste in their mouths. The most likely cause, however, is an abnormal stimulation of the nerves or brain center involved in the recognition of a sweet taste. In persons who are past 50 this may be evidence of a so-called small stroke.

Q — What makes my muscles jerk just before I fall asleep?

A — Muscles that have been kept tense during waking hours often react in this way when they are finally relaxed.

Dear Ann Landers: The least you can do when you refer to a couple by name is to identify the city so you don't embarrass innocent people.

Recently you printed a letter signed Betty and Don. My name is Betty and my husband's name is Don. Last night we had to take the telephone off the hook to get a night's sleep. Everyone we know called to ask if we had read Ann Landers' column. The letter was about Betty and Don's sex problem. Our friends and neighbors thought it was hilarious.

Your column may do some good, but it also does some harm. Please print this letter and vindicate us. Our last name begins with C and we live in Minneapolis and we are not having any trouble whatsoever. Thank you.—MISTAKEN IDENTIFY

Dear Mistaken: You're not THE Betty and Don. It so happens that I made up the signature Betty and Don to protect the couple who wrote. Next time I'll use Murgatroid and Zurline—and then I'll probably get a beef from them.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school junior, aged 17, and madly in love with my history teacher. Please don't tell me it is puppy love. I am not a puppy. I am a human being.

The teacher is 32 years old, married and has three children. To make matters worse he doesn't know I exist. Half the time he calls me by another girl's name. Whenever I correct him he apologizes with, "I'm sorry, but Henrietta sat in that seat last semester."

Please don't say this is infatuation or I'll scream. Compared to him high school boys look like babies. I'd rather stay home and think about my secret love than go out with the captain of the football team.

I dread graduation. How can I do well in college when this man is on my mind constantly? Help me.—FRUSTRATED AND HEARTSICK

Dear Frus: Your "illness" is common among both high school girls and boys. It is called "Crushonthecheritis."

You'll recover—probably at graduation time. Until then, spend less time in the dream world and get back to reality. It may not be as much fun but it's healthier and more practical.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ecologists Defend State In Deer Herd Squabble

By BOB VOGES
LANSING (AP)—A voice of moderation has been heard in the squabble over Michigan's deer situation.

The voice is that of a group of professional conservation men, and it has spoken at a time when practically everyone who ever has gone hunting is trying to tell the State Conservation Department how to manage its deer herd.

Legislators, some of whom never have handled a gun, are jumping into the act. A proposal has been made to impose a two-year ban on the shooting of antlerless deer.

But the Michigan Association of Conservation Ecologists has outlined a different stand in letters to all members of the House and Senate.

Policy Defended
The association is composed of more than 250 professionals representing some 35 public and private agencies in the conservation field. The word "ecology" means the branch of science concerned with the interrelationship of organisms and their environment.

Here is what the ecologists say:

"We are well aware of the current public reaction to the last deer season.

"However, we are strong in our conviction that a moratorium on antlerless deer shooting is not a sound solution — for next year, the following year or any year.

"In fact it would be a short sighted and, most probably, ineffectual measure.

"Before the shooting of does and fawns was permitted in Michigan, much smaller numbers of hunters took to the field, and even this smaller number realized a considerable lower success ratio than preliminary data indicate was enjoyed last season.

Cite Annual Waste
"What was even worse in those days was the severe annual waste of animals that could not survive the winters because there was not enough available food to go around.

"Since the advent of enlightened management, characterized by the shooting of antlerless deer on a quota basis, a

Protestants To Fight Hunger

With experts forecasting 1966 as a year of mounting famine and other forms of social disaster, U.S. Protestant churches are preparing to meet heavy commitments in the field of overseas assistance.

A total of $17.9 million will be sought by participating denominations through the annual "One Great Hour of Sharing" appeal. Observed each year the week following the fourth Sunday in Lent (March 20 this year), funds raised by the congregations through the appeal are used for relief and rehabilitation purposes in Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Middle East and limited areas of Europe.

Homeless and hungry peoples in "human disaster areas" will be among the principal recipients.

During 1965, Church World Service shipped 225.6 million pounds of food, clothing and materials to needy countries. CWS is the relief and rehabilitation agency through which most of the denominations affiliated with the National Council of Churches channel their overseas aid efforts.

Bulk of the foods were supplied from government stores.

PSYCHIATRIC SERVICES
WASHINGTON (UPI)—General hospitals nationwide treated and discharged almost 600,000 psychiatric patients in the 12-month reporting period ending April, 1965.

This represents a 40 per cent increase in psychiatric services rendered by general hospitals over the past 10 years, the Public Health Service reported. The survey was conducted by the American Hospital Association and the Office of Biometry, National Institute of Mental Health.

consistently increasing number of hunters has enjoyed a higher rate of success.

"In the ten years following the first shooting of does and fawns, Michigan hunters took over a million deer.

"We cannot properly manage our deer herd without shooting antlerless deer. This axiom has been conclusively demonstrated in Michigan and throughout the nation.

"Any retreat from sound biological management of our deer will set back the progress achieved by over ten years of the present practice."

That is the advice from the professionals.

The question now is: Will the Legislature listen?

Deeryard Tour Planned Feb. 12

The Alger Soil Conservation District will sponsor a deeryard tour on Saturday, Feb. 12, beginning at the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station office in Shingleton at 10 a. m., according to Henry Schierschmidt, tour chairman, and Lou Verne, game biologist.

All 4-H boys, Boy Scouts and others who are interested in learning about deer in their winter habitat are encouraged to go on this tour. Verne will provide information about experiments in game biology and management being carried on at the Experiment Station after which the tour group will move to a deeryard selected in advance by Verne and Soil Conservation District directors.

Since the deeryard tour will be made on the same day as the 37 mile overwater and overland snowmobile pace, effort will be made to get all participants back to Munising in time for the race.

MAN'S BEST HELPER
MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — Walter Hoe Jr. and his dog, Buster, worked out a solution to the telephone lineman's problem.

Hoe wanted a telephone line run from one end of the house to the other but he wanted it kept out of sight.

Since Hoe had no basement, the lineman decided to extend the line through the narrow crawl space under the house. The lineman, however, was too big to get into the space.

Hoe then tied one end of the wire to Buster's collar. He went around to the other end of the crawlway and whistled for the dog, who came running—pulling the line behind him.

Delightful Cheese Dip Variation

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This is the "dippy" season. Seems like no matter whose home you visit, you are offered a new dip for crackers or vegetables. Fine and dandy, but why don't you surprise your friends with a dip and winter pear combination of your own?

The three-cheese dip is a nippy combination of Roquefort, Cheddar-club and cream cheese, sparked with a bit of sherry and subtle seasonings. Use for both pear wedges and crackers.

The russet-colored Bosc, the green Anjou and the yellow-green Comice are the three varieties of fresh western pears available now. Pears are ripe when they yield to gentle pressure, regardless of color. If you buy them firm, they will ripen in a few days at room temperature.

Three-Cheese Dip With Fresh Winter Pears

Fresh Anjou, Bosc or Comice Pears
1 (3-oz.) package Roquefort cheese
1 (10-oz.) jar Cheddar-club cheese
1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup sherry wine
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon paprika
Chill pears. Having remaining ingredients at room temperature, combine and beat them until well-blended. Place in crock or serving dish and serve with pear wedges and crisp crackers.

Wrap chunks of frankfurter in bacon; place on a rack in a shallow baking pan and bake in a moderate oven for about half an hour. Serve at snack-time.

LONGER LIGHT: the return to more gracious living habits brings a renewed interest in candles of varied design. A development in the field is the use of more expensive, longer lasting candles using butane gas. The task of the candle shown here is filled with fuel, much as a cigarette lighter is filled. Especially new is a plastic base designed to offset the destructive chemical action of the gas. Candles available at jewelry stores and jewelry counters in department stores.

Recognizing Compliments

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The wife who says her husband "never pays her a compliment" just may not recognize a compliment when she gets one, points out one of my women readers. She asks: "Does he kiss you when he leaves in the morning and when he comes home at night?" That's a compliment. "Does he ever say, 'Listen to this,' and then read aloud something he thinks you will appreciate, too?" That's a compliment. "Does he discuss financial or business matters with you before making an important decision? That's a compliment. "Does he call you outdoors to see a sunset? That's a compliment. "Does he ask for a second serving of the pie you baked because it is his favorite? That's a compliment. "Does he invite you to go along when he makes a business trip? That's a compliment. "Does he worry about you when you are not feeling well? That's a compliment. "Has he tried to plan things so that you will be provided for if anything happens to him? That's a compliment. "Does he pitch in and help with the children when you've had a trying day? That's a compliment.

"Has he ever said to a child who was sassy to you, 'Don't ever let me hear you speak to your mother like that again?' That's a compliment. "Does he ever mention to guests that you found the antique sideboard in a junk shop and refinished it yourself, or that you did the painting over in the corner? That's a compliment. "Does he unfailingly remember your birthday and wedding anniversary? That's a compliment. "Has he been married to you for years, for better and for worse? That's a compliment. Perhaps, the best compliment a woman ever gets."

Valentine Cupcakes

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When hearts are young and gay, very young and very gay, then a Valentine's party should offer pink-tinted cakes. Definitely. Of course, this loving celebration for the young set calls for pink butter frosting on the cupcakes, too, and probably pink milk punch.

Valentine Cupcakes

2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/4 teaspoons double-acting acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup minus 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Pink butter frosting
Candy sprinkles, red cinnamon candies, or other Valentine candies

*Or use vegetable shortening, increasing sugar to 1 1/4 cups and milk to 1 cup.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream the butter. Gradually add sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beginning and ending with flour. Mix just until blended. Add vanilla. Spoon batter into paper baking cups that have been set in muffin pans, filling each half-full. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into centers comes out clean. Cool thoroughly; then frost and decorate with candies as desired. Makes about 2 1/2 dozen cupcakes.

Pink Butter Frosting
1 tablespoon raspberry, strawberry, or cherry instant soft drink mix
1/4 cup hot water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 pounds confectioners' sugar, sifted

Dissolve soft drink mix in hot water. Cream butter until soft. Add sugar alternately with the soft drink mixture, beating well after each addition. If necessary, add a little more hot water to make frosting soft enough to spread.

Makes about 3 1/2 cups frosting, or enough to frost tops of 2 1/2 to 3 dozen cupcakes or tops and sides of two 8- or 9-inch cake layers.

VALENTINE CUPCAKES—party fare.

The top individual scorer in Upper Peninsula basketball circles was up to his same old tricks last week . . . Bob Gale, 6 foot 5 inch senior center on Coach Bruce Warren's Trout Creek quint, checked in 35 points as the Anglers whipped Ne-gaunee St. Paul, 91-60 . . . He added 36 the next night as Trout Creek bombed Watersmeet, 122-35 . . . The Anglers blanked Watersmeet, 29-0, in the third period of that game enroute to their 12th straight victory of the season.

Meanwhile, Chassell's Dave Vertanen continued light on Gale's heels in the individual scoring race by tossing in 39 points in a losing effort . . . Champion used a balanced attack to topple Chassell, 89-65, with four players reaching high double figures.

Menominee's Jim Uecke, leading scorer in the Great North-ern Conference, tallied 34 points in a losing cause as the Mar-rons bowed to Twin City rival Marinette, 78-75 . . . The 6 foot 1 inch senior pitched in 16 field goals and two free throws.

Ironwood needed a last minute rally to edge Wakefield in Michigan-Wisconsin conference action, 55-52, extend- ing the Red Devil victory string to 12 games, nine of them in conference competition . . . Ironwood was down by six points, 48-42, with three and a half minutes remaining in the game . . . Classy Guy Kangas paced the Red Devils with 25 points while Al Inkala and Keith Clark netted 13 each for Wakefield.

All five starters scored in double figures as the DeTour Red Raiders, ranked third in the state in Class D, blasted Brimley, 85-52, in Eastern Conference play . . . Senior Jim Bailey was the top point producer with 13 as Coach Dick Roan's eagles fashioned their 13th triumph in 15 starts.

St. Ignace tightened its grip on the top rung of the Straits-Huron Conference ladder with a 66-55 verdict over down- state Rogers City . . . Barry Pierson, who earned all-state honors as quarterback of the undefeated St. Ignace foot- ball team last fall, scored 19 points to lead the Saints to their ninth victory of the campaign.

Coach Fritz Wilson's Houghton Gremlins romped to an 84-56 victory over Calumet in a Copper Country Conference contest, holding Calumet's high scoring Chuck Boorman to 15 points . . . Phil Jose led the Gremlins to their seventh de- cision of the season with 25 points.

Ishpeming retained its Great Lakes Conference lead with an easy 81-44 waltz against the hapless Marquette Redmen who are suffering through one of the worst cage seasons in history . . . Ishpeming was on target with 31 of 59 shots from the field and 19 of 27 from the charity line as the Hematites registered their 11th victory in 13 outings . . . Guard Bill Zhukie was top gunner with 24 points.

Munising, chasing Ishpeming in the Great Lakes race, also had an easy time disposing of the hot-and-cold Newberry In- dians, 66-44 . . . The Mustangs bolted for a 10-0 lead and built their margin to 56-22 entering the final period . . . Chuck Clement led four Mustangs in double figures with 18 points while Tom Watson topped Newberry with nine.

Crystal Falls, off and running after a slow start this season, thumped Niagara by an 83-57 margin in Menom- inee Range Conference action as senior Ted Sackech ham- mered in 35 points . . . Ted's sophomore brother, 6 foot 6 inch Gary, added 19 as the Trojans extended their current victory string to seven.

Judge Advances Trial Date In Baseball Battle

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Proper hearing and did not have "sufficient certainty and specifi- cation for us to comply with it."

But, Kuhn said, the National League wasn't ignoring the order which directs it to prepare to field a baseball team in Mil-waukee this spring, either the Atlanta-bound Braves or a still unborn expansion club.

Kuhn said the league will move later this week if possible, to have the order vacated.

But his remarks didn't stop the state from having a rhetori- cal field day at baseball's ex- pense as it pressed for and won an advance in the trial date of its antitrust action against the game.

The trial, moved back last week to March 7, is now sched- uled to begin Feb. 28 before Roller.

"The state finds it hard to believe," thundered William S. Stafford, special counsel, "that the National League, which takes such pains to present an Eagle Scout image of its ball players, would be so irrespon- sible as to flout a court order."

truly it is in the character of the monopolistic men we are dealing with."

Stafford said it was necessary to obtain from the court "a meaningful and enforceable re- straining order so that the state and the county can continue to enjoy the recreational and eco- nomic benefits of major league baseball in 1966."

Roller, in advancing the trial date one week (the state had asked for two) noted the argu- ments by defense attorney last week that his order would re- quire a later trial start.

He avoided disclosing his reaction to the National League's reply to his order, say- ing only that it was "not my purpose today to punish the de- fense for failure to comply."

He did, and Kuhn and Earl Jinkinson, attorney for the Braves, objected, Jinkinson con- tended the advance in the date "was prejudicial to the interests of my clients." He said it was "a hardship to be forced to trial at this early date."

Michigan Big Ten Title Hopes Riding On Tonight's Game

By The Associated Press

Michigan's hopes for a third consecutive Big Ten basketball title face a stern test tonight in its home-court battle with Illi- nois.

"We might not have the horses to beat them," Illinois Coach Harry Combes said, "but we'll go up there to try to win."

Trying to beat the Wolverines, undefeated in five conference games, entails to a great extent stopping All-American Cazzie Russell. Wisconsin alumnus stopped Russell last Saturday, limiting him to 21 points, but Michigan took a 69-67 victory.

Wisconsin bowed to home- team Ohio State in overtime 87-81 in the loop's only Monday clash.

Illinois has as good a chance as any team in the conference to derail Michigan, 9th in the nation but it could be one of the last chances to thwart the Wol- verines' title hopes.

Minnesota, still a contender with a 2-2 record, is at home against Northwestern in to- night's only other conference clash.

Michigan State, second in the Big Ten with a 5-1 mark, is idle tonight. Indiana is at DePaul in a nonconference game.

Wisconsin led Ohio State most of the way Monday night and was in front 43-27 at halftime, but the Buckeyes tied the game at the end of regulation time.

Ohio State went ahead for the first time in the overtime period and snatched the game away from the Badgers.

Following Tuesday night's ac- tion, Big Ten teams will be idle until Saturday when Michigan invades Indiana. Ohio State is at Illinois, Wisconsin goes to Michigan State and Purdue plays at Minnesota.

In the Southeastern Confer- ence Monday Vanderbilt relied on accurate foul-line shooting to down Auburn 68-63 and retain its No. 3 ranking in the As- sociated Press poll.

Clyde Lee hit seven of the Vanderbilt free throws that en- ded Auburn's upset ambitions. Lee, the Commodores' 6-foot-9 center, hit only two field goals but finished with 15 points.

Bill Ryzaj came off the bench and rallied West Virginia to a 73-72 victory over visiting St. John's of New York. Ryzaj, a 6-6 senior, dropped a free throw with four seconds to play for the winning points after sinking a 20-foot jumper that tied the game at 72-all with 2:24 left.

Drake grabbed a share of the Missouri Conference lead with a 60-55 victory over Tulsa at Des Moines. Harold Jeter hit 22 points, most of them from the outside as the Bulldogs won their fourth straight in the MVC.

Oklahoma State broke a 10- game losing streak with a 67-50 Big Eight victory over Missouri at Stillwater. Bill Fisher led the Cowboys with 18 points as they hit on 26 of 44 field goals at- tempts for 59 per cent accuracy from the floor.

Elsewhere in the Big Eight, six Iowa State players hit dou- ble figures as the Cyclones dumped Oklahoma at Norman 92-82. John McGonigle had 19 points and Raul Durarte 18 pac- ing the attack.

Fairfield spurted off its 13th straight victory, romping past Niagara 82-65. The Stages got 30 points from Bill Smith and grabbed 53 rebounds to 25 for the losers. Fairfield hasn't lost since dropping its opener to St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

On the West Coast, UCLA scored an 84-67 home court vic- tory over Arizona in a noncon- ference game. The Bruins led at halftime 41-25 and opened the gap after the intermission by outscoring the Wildcats 23-3. Mike Lynn topped the Uclans with 23 points.

Michigan Back Among Top Ten

By ED SCHUYLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Wolverines of Michigan, highly rated when the basket- ball season started then dropped from the ranks of the mighty following a mediocre beginning, are back in the top 10 in the Associated Press major college poll.

The Big Ten Conference lead- ers, who eked out a 69-67 victory over Wisconsin Saturday, are in 9th place, recipients of 49 points from the AP's panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Leading the pack are three Southern schools—Duke, Ken- tucky and Vanderbilt.

The top-rated Blue Devils re- ceived 24 first-place votes and 398 points after whipping North Carolina State Saturday for their 13th straight victory. Van- derbilt advanced from fourth to third, replacing Providence.

Kentucky kept its unbeaten record intact with victories No. 13 and 14 over Louisiana State and Auburn last week and re- ceived 17 first-place votes and 386 points.

The other first-place ballot went to Dayton which upset St. Joseph's, Pa. Despite the upset victory, the Flyers remained unranked.

Vanderbilt moved into third place on the strength of an easy victory over Louisiana State, which raised the Commodores' record to 15-2. They could im- prove their ranking with a vic- tory over Kentucky Wednesday.

Kentucky won the first meeting of the two teams.

Providence, which dropped to fourth, won its 13th in 14 tries by beating Niagara while Loyola of Chicago moved into fifth place with victories over Marshall, UCLA and Kansas State.

The voting, with records and points:

1. Duke	15-1	398
2. Kentucky	14-0	386
3. Vanderbilt	15-2	276
4. Providence	13-1	271
5. Chicago Loyola	15-1	217

Yankees Will Substitute Jab For Knockout Punch

NEW YORK (AP) — The mighty Yankees are going to substitute the jab for the hay- maker.

Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle are going to do more bunting this year in Manager Johnny Keane's new plan of at- tack.

"We're not going to sit back and wait for the home run," said Keane, who was bitterly disappointed last year when the injured Yanks floundered and finished sixth.

"We are going to do more bunting," said Keane. "What's wrong with having Mantle bunt? With men on first and second and nobody out, Mr. Maris is going to bunt."

Keane made his remarks at a news conference Monday, called to announce the signing of pitcher Bob Friend and shortstop Ruben Amaro. Friend reportedly got $42,000 from the Yanks. There were no estimates of Amaro's salary.

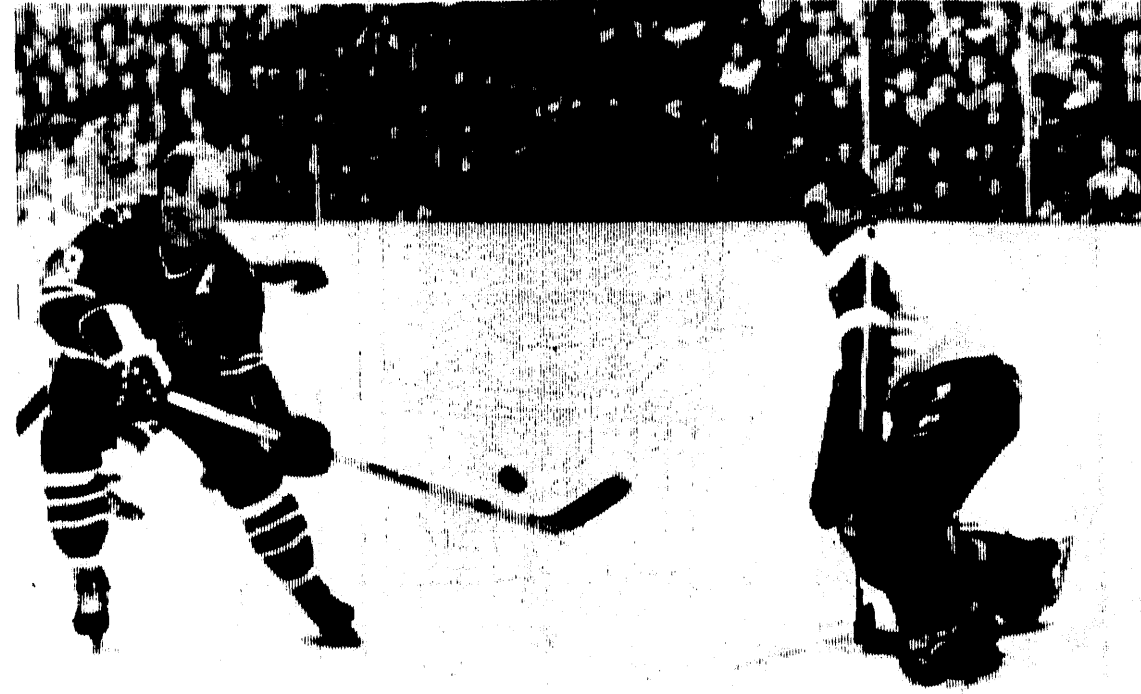

Asked if the new bunting at- tack resulted from the Los An- geles Dodgers' success, Keane said:

"The Dodgers had something to do with it. You notice Boston led the league in home runs last year and finished ninth. When I was with St. Louis we used to go for the bunt when we played at Chavez Ravine. We're going to be doing more of it at Yankee Stadium, Boston and Baltimore."

"You don't see anybody charging Maris and Mantle when they're at the plate. I want to make all our players more adept bunters."

"No longer will I hesitate about having Maris or Mantle bunt. When I was at St. Louis, we never did have Stan Musial bunt. It just wasn't supposed to be done. Yes, that's right. Maybe I was overwhelmed by the glamour of Musial like I was by the glamour of Mantle."

"I've come to realize there

Warriors Land In Second Spot

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors have just landed in second place in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

But it's lucky for them they aren't in the same division as the East's second-place Cincinnati Royals who test the West's new runners-up tonight in San Francisco.

If they were in the same divi- sion, the Warriors would be 11 games behind the Royals.

San Francisco moved past Baltimore to second place Monday night by thrashing the Bullets 131-118. Paul Neumann scored 16 points for the War- riors in the first six minutes of the fourth quarter and the Bul- lets fell 16 points behind, never to recover.

The victory, the Warriors' third straight, gave them a 25-30 season mark and moved them to 5 1/2 games behind the Los Angeles Lakers.

Holy Name Has Game At Gwinn

By The Associated Press

John Butymowicz, Holy Name High School athletic director and head basketball coach, announced today that the Crusaders will play Gwinn at the Model Towner gym tonight in a game that was not included on the original Holy Name season sched- ule.

The Crusaders will be seek- ing to snap a 12 game losing streak against a team that defeated them, 71-45, earlier in the season.

Moved up from the jay- vees to the varsity this week by Butymowicz was Augie Janke, a 6 foot 5 inch sopho- more. Greg Brandt and Jerry Wiles, both regulars, are side- lined with injuries.

Rally Catches Michigan Tech

DE PERE, Wis. (AP) — St. Norbert wiped out a nine- point halftime deficit with an early outburst of scoring in the second half and stopped Michi- gan Tech 79-68 Monday night.

Tech led 45-36 at the intermis- sion, but St. Norbert closed the gap with eight straight points when play resumed and shot ahead midway through the se- con half. John Zeihen and Ron Braut each hit 19 points for St. Norbert while Eric Paavilainen led Michigan Tech with 15.

Beard came in at 274. Arnold Palmer, 1965 champion George Archer, Tom Weiskopf and Ray Floyd all finished at 275 to col- lect $3,037.50 each.

Archer, a former San Fran- cisco city champion, carded the best individual 18-hole round of the tournament with a 65.

Beard's 274 brought him the $4,600 second prize, yet he missed becoming the first golfer ever to score a wire-to-wire vic- tory.

Venturi's 273 was just one stroke off the Lucky tournament record of 272 set by current U.S. open champion Gary Player in 1961. Now he heads for the Bob Hope tournament starting Wednesday in Palm Springs, Calif.

In his eight National League shutouts during 1965, Dodger Sandy Koufax gave up only eight walks and 28 hits in 73 innings. He fanned 87 in his shutouts.

Ralph Houk, Yankee general manager, said the latest report from Rochester, Minn., was that Mantle would be in full swing in mid-March and ready for open- ing day. He said he expected Mantle to start working out March 1 when the club reports at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Mick- ey recently underwent an opera- tion at the Mayo Clinic for the removal of a bone particle from his right shoulder.

Packers Hire Jerry Burns

By The Associated Press

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Jerry Burns, dismissed as head football coach at Iowa after five dismal seasons, has stepped up instead of down.

Burns was added Monday to the coaching staff of the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League three of the last five seasons.

It was a prestigious appoint- ment to a staff that has produced two new head football coaches in the NFL within the last month.

Vince Lombardi, head coach, general manager and tactician taskmaster of the Packers, didn't specify what Burns would do, although it was expected he would take over defensive back- field duties.

Burns replaces Norb Hecker, who welded the stingiest pass defense unit in the NFL last season and was named last week as head coach of the new Atlanta Falcons.

Burns has stayed largely in seclusion at his home in Iowa City since he was fired in mid-November. He had no immedi- ate comment.

Bill Austin, a graduate of Lombardi's staff who moved on to Los Angeles last year, was named recently as new head coach of the Pittsburgh Steel- ers. Lombardi's ace defensive line coach, Phil Bengtson, re- portedly had other offers dangled before him in the reshuf- fling of the NFL coaching line- up since the season ended.

Burns, a surprise choice, left Iowa after 12 years on the Hawkeye staff and five as head coach. His 1965 squad, a favor- ite for the Big Ten title, slumped to a 1-8 record and ex- tended Iowa's conference losing string to 12 games.

Five New Teams Join Prep List

By The Associated Press

Five new teams made their way into the top ten in this week's Michigan high school basketball poll conducted by The Associated Press, but none of them could make it higher than eighth place.

The AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters retained East Detroit as the No. 1 team in Class A, South Haven as the kingpin in Class B and Muskegon Christian and Covert as the leaders in classes C and D, respectively.

Detroit Austin jumped three places to take over fourth place in Class A, the only class which did not have any new teams among the elite.

Pontiac Central and Detroit Northwestern grabbed the next two spots in back of East Detroit.

South Haven continued to hold a big lead in Class B, and Grand Rapids South Christian

Doug Barkley Gets Surgery

DETROIT (AP) — Team phy- sician Dr. John Finley said Monday it will take another five or six days to determine the full extent of the eye injury to All-Star Detroit Red Wings defense- man Doug Barkley.

Barkley underwent surgery Sunday after he was struck by a stick while fighting for the puck with Chicago's Doug Mohns.

Dr. Milton Kosley of the Red Wings' medical staff described the injury as a "tear where the white and the colored part of the eye meet."

Dr. Finley explained that the tear was repaired but extra time would be needed to allow the blood to drain from the area and allow closer examination.

The Red Wings also an- nounced that Manager-Coach Sid Abel's mother-in-law Mrs. Lillian Morandy, 72, died in De- troit Monday.

Funeral services will be held Thursday and Abel will fly to Boston immediately afterward to join the team.

Drifts Hamper Eastern States

By United Press International
Snowfall eased today in the big Eastern storm, but cold, gusty winds continued to pile drifts, bedeviling efforts to clear roads in smothered communities and a new storm spread 4 to 8 inches of snow northeastward out of the southern Plains.

Syracuse, N.Y., still was in the grip of blizzardy snow squalls blowing off Lake Ontario. Four feet of snow covered some parts of the city.

The Weather Bureau said that the record January snowfall included 43 inches at Worcester, Mass., 41 inches at both Burlington, Vt., and Roanoke, Va., and 32 inches at Lynchburg, Va.

Florida recovered from its frost and freeze and mild weather pressed in from the Gulf of Mexico along the coast to Texas.

Declare Emergencies

Statewide emergencies were declared for Pennsylvania and Delaware where hundreds of travelers and rural dwellers were still isolated by road blockages caused by drifts of 10 feet or more. In Virginia, the snow dunes were reported 15 feet high.

With communications hampered, there was no way of assessing the cost in lives or dollars of the January storm series. Death counts bogged as human attrition took many forms including fire fatalities, freezing, and heart attacks from snow removal exertion.

In Pennsylvania the highway department said that with 11,000 men engaged in snow clearance, the cost could run to $3 million. The clean-up cost in Philadelphia, where 9 inches fell, was put at $500,000. In some localities, all except vital road clearing operations were put off until the snow-shifting winds should die down.

Schools Close

Hundreds of schools were closed Monday or Tuesday, not only in the hard-hit Eastern sector, but also in the path of a new storm from New Mexico to Missouri. In Maryland where all schools were shut, two colleges and the University of Maryland delayed registrations for the second semester until Wednesday or Thursday.

U.S. 40 was closed in some sections through Maryland, and hundreds of secondary roads were choked in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Fire flared at Belle, Mo., today when two gas pipelines exploded.

State Treasury Receipts Soar

LANSING (AP)—The State Treasury got 1966 off to a bullish start with record January sales and use tax collections of $69.2 million, reports State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock.

The collections on December business represented a 12.6 per cent increase over the $60.9 million collected in the first month of 1965.

Lock estimated increase in the past year at 11 or 12 per cent, compared with an annual growth rate of 3 or 4 per cent over an 8-year period preceding the current economic boom.

Archer Chosen In Lansing Post

LANSING (AP)—The Department of Licensing and Regulation announced the appointment of William Archer as deputy director for the Bureau of Administration. A native of Iron Mountain, Archer was a budget analyst for the Department of Administration and executive office.

GLADSTONE

Fewer Ranches Keep Up Delta Mink Production

Delta County's mink ranches have declined by half in numbers in recent years, but the surviving units maintain the old volume of fine mink pelt production. Joseph Goodman, Kipling mink rancher and mink breeders association official, told the Gladstone Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting at the Gladstone Yacht Club Monday noon.

Delta County ranches produce 60,000 to 70,000 mink pelts yearly, said Goodman and this is about one-quarter of all Michigan's production of these exotic furs.

The pelts go to auctions conducted by the Hudson's Bay Co., the New York Auction, one in Minneapolis which is a branch of the New York auction, the American Fur Auction at Milwaukee or a Seattle Auction. Goodman said that the county's 1965 production, which was pelted last November, started to go to market for the December auction in New York. This is not a major sale.

More skins went to the January auction, a big one. There'll be more sold in February, no sale in March and then the sales in April, May and June will move the rest of last year's production.

The range in prices will be from $5 to $50 for the big high fancy males in violet, sapphire and white colors. The average price will probably be in the $20 range, although it may not average that to ranchers.

It takes from 55 to 65 skins to make a woman's mink coat and the females (only about half as large as male mink) produce from none or one offspring a year to as many as 12. Goodman's largest litter of 12 had 9 grow to maturity.

Breeders use great skill in cross breeding to obtain fur qualities and colors which they hope will be popular in the fashion world. This area produces the world's best mink pelts.

Goodman showed slides of a trip which he and William Schoen, Bark River mink rancher, made to Scandinavia two years ago with Breger Larson, fur industry specialist, to see European fur production and marketing methods. They visited Copenhagen, Oslo and Aas in Norway, London and Paris.

"European furs are not as good quality as those produced here," said Goodman "but Norway has some good quality production."

Lewis 'Visits' Rotary Club

Clifford A. Lewis of Curtis, a member of the Manistique Rotary Club, turned up at the meeting Monday as more than a member.

Lewis, district governor, paid an "official visit" to the club and spoke on ideals of club service.

"Friendship earns an interest money never has," he noted in describing efforts, and need, for Rotary's work in international relations.

In community service he noted Marquette, which observed the anniversary of its Rotary Club, obtained sidewalk walks through first efforts of the club there. The initial project of the first club, in Chicago, was installation of rest rooms in public places.

He cited need in the Manistique community for better traffic control; complimented the community on its progress in improving business district appearance.

Lewis praised the Manistique club attendance effort; and plans for an international exchange student.

Slides for programs have been sent to South and Central American countries by the district, he said. Mrs. Edward Jackson of Manistique has been translating letters received from the Dominican Republic, one of the recipient groups.

Lewis is taking a 3-month leave of absence from the club here to serve as principal of McMillan School.

Hawk Decline Noted In Canada

TORONTO — A significant decline in three species of hawks has been observed in eastern North America during the past 10 years, according to Allan Waino, Lake Simcoe District biologist, Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, at Maple. The three species are the peregrine, bald eagle and osprey. The marsh hawk is reported to be declining in numbers.

Insecticides have been widely blamed for the hawks' decline, Waino pointed out. The evidence was admittedly circumstantial, but a drastic decrease in the population of these species had occurred at the same time and in the same areas where great increase in the use of insecticides had taken place. It had been found that, for several species of game birds, just one-fifth of the lethal dose of DDT caused a serious drop in fertility.

There appeared to be two reasons why the decrease in hawks should be more noticeable than in other birds, Waino said. First, because birds of prey have one of the slowest rates of reproduction among birds; secondly, those that eat carrion killed by pesticides or DDT-sprayed food, accumulate a serious dose of DDT.

Recently, in Britain, he pointed out, a conference dealing with this problem concluded that insecticides have killed off more hawks than a century of game keepers and egg collectors.

'Don't Shoot, We're Americans' Friends Attack Infantry

By EDDIE ADAMS

HOAI CHAU, Viet Nam (AP)—An American infantryman, his face contorted, leaped to his feet in the sand behind me.

As we watched in fear and hope, he shouted out "We're Americans, we're Americans. Don't shoot."

For 15 minutes we had lain in that open field under a barrage of bullets and mortars that sliced out of a tree line.

There were four of us with nowhere to take cover. Other groups of Americans were in a ditch, and some were hiding behind headstones over graves. The tracer bullets screamed toward us, flying over our heads, picking at the sand between us.

Earlier, I had landed with a medical evacuation helicopter. As the helicopter settled down in the sand, a mass of wounded American soldiers came running toward us.

One of the unhurt men said: "There isn't much left of the company."

As the helicopters left with the wounded, Viet Cong snipers opened up. We inched forward and a sudden blast of fire came in from the right flank.

We slammed into the ground and M79 grenades, 60mm mortars, and 50-and 30-caliber machine-gun bullets came blasting at us.

It was then that the American soldier behind us stood to his feet and cried out, "don't shoot."

He threw a purple smoke grenade to the ground. As he stood there, an M79 grenade plopped into the command group just 30 yards ahead of us.

Five men were hit by fragments, including the company commander, Capt. Eugene A. Fox of Washington, D.C. He was slightly wounded in the legs.

Lying there in the sand, I began to realize that this was not the enemy. The firing slackened off and stopped.

Lumbering into view were half a dozen armored troop-carrying vehicles. Clinging to them were Vietnamese paratroopers.

It was they who had been lacing us with their firepower. I stood up and walked over to an American adviser with the Vietnamese.

"How could this happen?" I asked.

He replied: "Well, we got fire from this direction, and we returned it."

He fired four shots with a rifle, police said. One hit the family dog; two others slammed into the kitchen wall.

The fourth punctured a gas pipe leading to the kitchen stove.

At that point Mrs. Sweeney decided to investigate. She went into the kitchen with a cigarette that ignited the leaking gas fumes.

The kitchen ceiling collapsed; plaster fell from the walls of adjoining apartments.

But no one found a burglar.

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Norine McGee, 525 N. 19th St., where a garage ignited when hot ashes were placed against it. The call was at 9:06 p.m. Monday and there was no damage.

Delta Lodge No. 195 F&AM, will hold a regular communication at the Masonic Temple Wednesday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. Lunch will be served. Visiting Masons are invited to attend.

Engineers To Hear Rubin

Refinancing of the Mackinac Bridge will be discussed by Lawrence Rubin at a meeting of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, Douglass Houghton Chapter, in Escanaba on Saturday. Registered engineers from all over the Upper Peninsula have been invited to attend.

Rubin, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, will talk to the engineers and their wives at a dinner meeting at the Sherman Hotel at 6 p.m. on the problems and implications and procedures for refinancing the bridge. This will be preceded by a business meeting in the afternoon when Leonard Della-Moretta, president of the Upper Peninsula Chapter, will preside over a discussion concerning reorganization of the society. The afternoon meeting will be held at Bay de Noc Community College at 2:30 p.m.

When the Mackinac Bridge Authority was enabled by legislation in 1952 to finance and build a bridge across the Straits, Rubin worked closely with Chairman Prentiss M. Brown and other Authority members to raise, through the sale of revenue bonds, the nearly $100 million required for the structure, the largest loan ever floated for such a purpose.

During construction he represented the Authority in its negotiations with the engineers, contractors and governmental agencies. Since the bridge was opened on Nov. 1, 1957 Rubin has served as the Authority executive officer in the administration of multi-million dollar annual business.

Phantom Thief Starts Trouble In Apartment

PITTSBURGH (AP)—When Melvin Sweeney thought he heard a burglar in his apartment, he didn't know then that would be the least of his worries.

He fired four shots with a rifle, police said. One hit the family dog; two others slammed into the kitchen wall.

The fourth punctured a gas pipe leading to the kitchen stove.

At that point Mrs. Sweeney decided to investigate. She went into the kitchen with a cigarette that ignited the leaking gas fumes.

The kitchen ceiling collapsed; plaster fell from the walls of adjoining apartments.

But no one found a burglar.

incident in my quest for a clinical test."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said in a statement from Washington that the FDA "has stubbornly refused" to act on his suggestions made over several years that Krebiozen be given a clinical and hospital test.

The FDA, which has banned interstate shipment of Krebiozen, said that "scientifically, the case was closed in 1963."

The government agency said that tests by FDA inspectors, scientists, cancer experts and chemists showed that the "so-called Krebiozen powder could not be produced in the way Durovic claimed."

"Krebiozen has never been approved and it does not now meet the standards for distribution, even for investigational use," the FDA said.
